Three-Day Birthday Party Set

By STEPHEN COOK

Corte Madera is 50 years old today and town folk will mark the occasion this evening by launching a three-day birthday party which will include street dancing, a grand ball, a Town Hall dedication, picnics, games, historical and art exhibits.

Men about town have attempted to enter the spirit of the anniversary with a sentimental return to straw hats with brightly striped bands and old string ties.

WOMEN'S CARE

Women's fashion in Corte Madera has remained more contemporary, while still alluding to the 1916 period. Their dress for the occasion is that fashion phenomenon, the granny dress, occasionally decorated with an artificial flower corsage worn at the midriff.

The anniversary recalls June 10, 1916, when Corte Madera citizens filed their papers of incorporation with the California secretary of state. They voted for incorporation on June 3 of that year by a margin of 140 to 44.

PARTY KICKOFF

The three-day party will begin at 7:30 p.m. today in the town's original business district —the Village Square. Following opening ceremonies, barbershop singers will perform, a Dixieland band will play and the revelers will dance in a roped off area.

During the evening and throughout the next two days, there will be an art in action exhibit and art sale on the patio of the recreation center.

Two days after the town's incorporation papers were filed in 1916, the Town Council held its first meeting in the old fire station at Redwood Avenue and Tamalpais Drive.

COUNCIL RITES

Monday, the present Town Council held its first meeting in an almost-new building, the remodeled Town Hall at Tamalpais Drive and Willow Avenue.

Tomorrow's continuation of the birthday celebration will lead off at 10:30 a.m. with dedication of this building by the Town Council. The ceremony will include 16 Boy and Girl Scouts re-enacting the signing of the town's charter, and a tour of the remodeled building.

At 11:30 a.m., a reception will be held in the recreation room of the Public Safety Building next door, where historical exhibits will be on display.

At noon, the council and invited guests will lunch at Gregory's restaurant in the Paradise Shopping Center. At the same time, a picnic and Little League baseball game will be held at the town park.

An old country fair, with booths, bingo games, a fashion show, public barbecue, clowns and music from a German band, is slated to run all day Saturday in the Paradise Shopping Center.

From 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., there will be the mayor's ball, honoring Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, in the recreation center. The public dance will feature music by a band of local businessmen and "surprise entertainments." Clothing representative of the

Copters Rescue Trapped Yanks

Napalm Strike Asked

SAIGON (UPI) — Two U. S. Army helicopters braved sheets of flame from Communuist machineguns today and plucked eight wounded men to safety from two trapped American paratroop companies.

The rescued men were from West Point football star Capt. Bill (lonesome end) Carpenter's Company C of the 101st Airborne "Screaming Eagles" Division. He had called down a napalm strike on his own position yesterday. His men, fighting alongside Company A commanded by Capt. Walter R. Brown of Chattanooga, Tenn., survived a night of repeated assaults.

PRAISES VALOR

Brigade Commander Brig. Gen. Willard Pearson praised their valor in what he called this "greatest battle" and vowed "every effort" to relieve the surrounded companies.

Three rescue columns were hacking their way through bamboo thickets on the Kontum plains 300 miles north of Saigon to try to save the two companies originally totalling 400 men in what has become one of the most dramatic episodes of the war.

The 101st Airborne Division already has killed at least 451 Communists in the four-day engagement. They were up against at least two crack North Viet Nam regular regiments —up to 3,000 men. Military men believed as many as 7,000 Communists were in the area, the equivalent of a full Communist division.

MEDAL OF HONOR

One of the heroes of the battle was Carpenter, the football all-America and famed "lonesome end" of the 1959 West Point team, who won a recommendation for the Medal of Honor—the nation's highest award for gallantry—by calling in air strikes of fiery napalm on his own position to protect the remainder of his force.

Carpenter and a handful of his men escaped. Others scattered in the swirling battle began regrouping today.

"I am just amazed that our casualties were as low as they were," said Lt. Col. Henry E. Emerson, the battalion commander of Milford, Pa., who directed operations from a forward command post. "He (Carpenter) was down to 20 men but throughout the night the men began filtering back."

The dramatic battle overshadowed a major victory by the U. S. Army's 1st Division that killed 105 Viet Cong in a battle only 50 miles north of Saigon. The Communists had set an ambush but it was spotted by an alert pilot and the Americans turned the table, wiping out a Viet Cong unit.

Final Vote Count Changes One Race

The final vote tally from the primary election in Marin County was at last ground out of Civic Center computers late yesterday. (Vote table, page 11)

The figures, which included the votes recorded on some 2,000 ballots which were folded, spindled or otherwise mutilated so they would not feed through the computer machinery Tuesday night, made a change in the outcome of only one race.

They failed to eliminate a tie in the race for three directors of the Marin City Community Services District, but knocked Cleo H. Simpson out of the tie with Orpha E. Barnes, and put Vivian A. Barron into it.

Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Barron got 14 votes each.

The new figures offered no further clue as to why so few votes were cast in the Marin City CSD race, however. They gave the leading candidate, Gabe Jackson, 16 votes and second, Douglas J. Quiett, 15 votes, an increase of one for Quiett and none for Jackson.

Unchanged was the need for a November runoff between William Marcus and Joel F. Gustafson for director of the Marin Municipal Water District, division four. The final count gave Marcus 2,858 votes and Gustafson 2,809 votes.

The new count slightly whittled the percentage of votes for John F. McInnus for county supervisor, first district, but did not change the fact that he defeated both his opponents, Dr. William F. Upton and Melvin S. Warenback, without the need for a runoff. McInnis garnered 53.94 per cent of the votes, instead of the 54.05 per cent shown originally.

Only election in which there had been any serious chance of a reversal was that for unification of the San Rafael and Dixie School districts. As it turned out, however, the defeat of the measure was by a greater margin—51.25 per cent—than it first appeared. Final count showed 7,139 votes against it, compared with 6,789 for it.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, whose victory in the four-way race for coroner was an upset, saw his margin of victory shaved by only a fraction of a percentage point, from 51.79 per cent to 51.74 per cent. Cooke got 26,406 votes, compared with 16,505 votes for Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley, 6,254 for Gilbert F. Freitas, and 1,865 for Richard F. Wood.

County Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato, who was successful in his bid for re-election from the fifth district, retained exactly the same percentage, 77.59. In the final tally, he drew 4,967 votes while his opponent,

Ky Confident Of Solving Hue Crisis

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky today sent a battalion of combat police into Hue where militant Buddhists have blocked military convoys. But government sources here said Ky was so confident he was in control he would leave next week for a conference in Seoul, Korea.

Ky conferred today with Thich Tam Chau, a moderate Buddhist leader, reportedly at suggestion of U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Chau has demanded the resignation of Ky but informed sources said he was now willing to accept less than this.

Chau conferred yesterday with Lodge and was reported to have asked him to use his influence to end American support of the Ky government. Instead Lodge suggested Chau see Ky personally and today's meeting was arranged. The Dangerous Germs Spill At Airport

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — two-quart bottle containing a deadly infectious hepatitis culture was dropped and broken last night at San Francisco International Airport.

The accident occurred as the culture was being loaded aboard an SFO helicopter for shipment to Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley.

U.S. Public Health officer Ralph S. Ebert said there was little chance nearby workers could be infected unless they had direct contact with the material. The helicopter and adjacent loading area were wiped with disinfectant and washed down with fire hoses.

State School Board Rules On Segregation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The State Board of Education took the first step yesterday toward requiring that California schools do a better job of mixing Negro and white students before they can share in the state's new bonanza of federal funds.

The action came against a background of board dissatisfaction with Los Angeles City school district handling of racial problems in Watts. It also drew protests and support from rival Los Angeles groups.

In essence, the board said in a new regulation that local school districts may not qualify for federal compensatory education money unless they do something about de facto segregation.

Wilson Riles, state director of Compensatory Education, said such provisions were in state law but were not being enforced for lack of a "clarifying regulation" from the state board. Under the new regulation, he said, it is clear that a district may shed federal money to bus negro students into

Surveyor Goes Back To Photography Job

PASADENA (UPI) — Surveyor, America's robot outpost on the moon, flashed back to earth today a sequence of pictures of the lunar landscape expected to total 1,200-1,300 photographs.

A JPL spokesman said the new pictures, while similar to earlier sequences, would reveal different details because the sun's angle had changed.

Supervisors Back Proposal For U.C. Campus In Marin

Marin County government today took the first formal steps in what promises to be a long campaign to bring a University of California campus to Marin.

The action came after Assemblyman William T. Bagley told the board of supervisors: "We are not stargazing, gentlemen. This is an imminent possibility."

The board ordered a resolution drawn up inviting the university to locate in Marin and instructing county staff to cooperate in making information available quickly.

It appointed Chairman Byron W. Leydecker and Jack Craemer, editor of the Independent-Journal, as co-chairmen of a committee, to be a small one at first, to carry the drive to convince the university to locate in the county.

Leydecker suggested Craemer's appointment, and Supervisor Peter H. Behr proposed Leydecker, saying the committee should be free of politics and Leydecker was well suited, "because he's a lame duck."

John M. Douglas, county director of economic development, told the board the university would be looking either for a high-rise site in San Francisco or about 1,000 acres to the north.

Bagley said there is opposition to a campus in San Francisco because the university "doesn't want another Berkeley."

Douglas said the campus would eventually have 25,000 students, and would cost, in construction, between $12,000 and $15,000 per student. He said the university community would eventually have about 75,000 people.

Major problems for a new campus drive will be meeting university requirements on housing, Douglas said. The campus should not be built in a run-down area, but also should not be in an area where housing is costly.

In addition, the campus should be no more than a half-hour commute for either students or faculty, he went on.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he knew of an excellent site in the Novato area, and Supervisor Thomas T. Storer said Nicasio might also be excellent.

"We shouldn't be talking about this now," cautioned Leydecker.

Carroll A. Snyker, who with Craemer, Bagley and Melvin S. Warenback, had been studying the campus idea, said two tentative sites are already under informal consideration.

Douglas said that for any community worried about controlled, orderly development and growth, a university campus is the answer. He said the campus would start with few students and add about 500 a year.

Final Arguments Due At Inn Slaying Trial

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

The prosecution rested its case today in the trial of Mark C. Osuna and Jack R. Gorman, charged for the Labor Day murder of bartender Mario Ferrari in the Mission Inn in San Rafael.

One hour and two witnesses later, the defense rested its case. Final arguments were to be made this afternoon.

No defense witness was called by Osuna's attorneys, Thomas P. Boyd and Richard Tarrant.

Public Defender Jerome C. Durham called two men to prove that Gorman could not have been in West Sacramento last August 24. A key prosecution witness, Ralph E. McKay, had testified earlier that on that day Gorman and Osuna were with him in West Sacramento and that the three stole guns and money from McKay's half-brother's home.

Carlos Fonseca, owner of San Francisco cabinet shop where Gorman worked from time to time last summer, testified that on Aug. 24 Gorman had worked on a cabinet. He brought time card records to court to prove it.

A paycheck Fonseca had given Gorman in August was subsequently identified by another defense witness, Stanley Epstein, then assistant director of the Half-Way House in San Francisco, where Gorman went to live last August on his release from San Quentin Prison.

Epstein testified that he saw Gorman around 6 p.m. on the Aug. 24, "given or take an hour."

In testimony yesterday after-

Wire Strike Ends; Bus Talks Halted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western Union's telegraph wires hummed across the nation again today after some 20,000 striking employees returned to work with a hefty pay raise and other gains in a new contract.

The employes, who averaged $2.52 per hour under the old contract, won pay increases of 4.5 per cent a year for two years, considerably in excess of White House guidelines that seek to hold wage hikes to 3.2 per cent annually.

The strike that began last Tuesday midnight and ended at 1:30 p.m. PDT yesterday crippled Western Union's handling of several hundred thousand telegrams a day.

Leased wire service to government agencies was not affected.

AIRLINE DISPUTE

CHICAGO— The International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, has turned down recommendations by a presidential emergency board aimed at settling a wage and policy dispute with five major airlines. The union's action clears the way for a strike.

BUS DEADLOCK

SAN FRANCISCO — Western Greyhound Lines and its drivers have indefinitely broken off negotiations to settle the 26-day strike which has halted Greyhound buses in 11 western states.

Federal Mediator William Rose flew to Washington yesterday for conferences with William E. Simkin, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. They will prepare recommendations for Greyhound and the Amalgamated Transit Workers Union.

Before leaving, Rose said the company and the union were no closer to a settlement than they had been two weeks ago.

FIREMEN RETURN

ATLANTA — Firemen returned to work today, ending a three-day strike by 500 members of the department represented by the independent Atlanta Fire Fighters Union. The strike was over wages and hours. The issues go to mediation.

NEWSPAPER TALKS

NEW YORK — The AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild of New York and the World Journal Tribune Corp. announce agreement on the key issue in the 47-day-old guild strike: selection of editorial personnel. Three craft unions are still without contracts.

NEW YORK STRIKE

NEW YORK — No progress is reported in negotiations with 700 striking air conditioning engineers in Manhattan office buildings. Supervisors are running the equipment normally handled by members of the AFL-CIO International Union of Operating Engineers.

SEAMEN HURTING

LONDON — Britain's top union leaders reject striking seamen's plea for support and some striking locals press for negotiations. With its money running out, the union may be forced to the negotiating table soon.

Alma Weaker, May Revive Over Atlantic

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Gale warnings were raised along the coasts of Georgia and the Carolinas today as the remnants of Hurricane Alma headed for the Atlantic and the possibility of renewed force.

The Weather Bureau in Miami warned of possible flooding, high winds and rains up to five inches as Alma — now being called a tropical storm — moves northeastward from Savannah.

There was a possibility of tornadoes in southeastern South Carolina.

The Weather Bureau's gale warnings extended from north of Savannah to Cape Fear, N.C.

The storm, at 5 a.m. PDT, was centered near Claxton, Ga., west of Savannah and was moving about 15 miles per hour. It no longer resembled the early-season monster that left 47 dead in three nations.

Alma was expected to move offshore today and some intensification was likely.

The lightship at Charleston, S.C., reported a squall of 55 miles per hour this morning.

Alma roared into the Florida Panhandle yesterday with winds estimated at 100 miles per hour.

Some houses were damaged and pecan trees uprooted when high winds with characteristics of a tornado lashed a rural section five miles northeast of Albany, Ga.

Old Wilson Home To Be A Shrine

NEW YORK (AP) — Northern Ireland will make the ancestral home of the late President Woodrow Wilson a public shrine.

The British Travel Service announced yesterday in New York that the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, Episcopal dean of the Washington Cathedral in the nation's capital, will conduct the ceremonies opening the house at Strabane, near Londonberry.

The home once belonged to James Wilson, grandfather of President Wilson, who migrated to the United States in 1807.

Transit Official Denies Job Bias

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Acting Chairman George M. Silliman of the Bay Area Rapid Transit Board of Directors said yesterday "my own recent head count shows that minority races are being adequately represented on our jobs."

Silliman was replying to a letter received by the board Monday from Oakland Mayor John Reading saying more could be done to increase minority opportunities on the project.

"We're tired of getting kicked around and being the whipping boy on this issue," Silliman told the board.

Meredith Marchers Plan Voter Signup Campaigns

SARDIS, Miss. (UPI)—The Meredith "freedom marchers," venturing deep into Ku Klux Klan territory, plan to spend their evenings roaming the Mississippi countryside in hopes of arousing greater interest in voter registration among the rural Negroes.

The missions, scheduled to begin late today, will continue until the marchers reach their Jackson, Miss., destination. The marchers, now 300 strong, will pitch tents in fields along the highway, then branch out to neighboring hamlets and "talk up" voter registration.

Up to now, the marchers have been driving back to Memphis, Tenn., or to nearby Mississippi towns for the night.

The new plan was announced by Dr. Martin Luther King, who has led the march since James Meredith was dropped in his tracks by a sniper on Monday.

"Each afternoon when the march ends, the leaders will go into the surrounding area and talk up voter registration, and possibly lead fringe marches on courthouses," King said.

King left the group last night to fly to Chicago on a civil rights mission. In his absence, the march will be led by one of his top aides. The Rev. Ralph Abernathy.

Woman Wins Lawsuit Against Tahoe Casino

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A district court jury awarded $9,500 to a Sacramento woman yesterday in her personal injury suit against Harrah's Club of Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Jessie M. Cook, an employe at McLellan Air Force Base, had asked for $55,000 for injuries allegedly received Jan. 19, 1962. She said she slipped on ice outside of the casino's north entrance on her way to catch a bus.

Tornado-Hit City Begins Digging Out

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The problems of caring for several thousand persons left homeless by a tornado which took 16 lives faced city officials today.

Most of those whose homes were lost or heavily damaged in the disaster put up temporarily with friends, relatives and strangers. Four Red Cross shelters were open in schools and the municipal auditorium.

About 70 persons were hospitalized with storm injuries, and at least 61 spent a second night in hospitals. Another 260 persons received outpatient treatment at hospitals.

Fifteen deaths occurred in Topeka — hardest hit of several towns struck by tornadoes in a brief span Wednesday night. One man was killed about 20 miles northeast of Topeka.

Many persons made offers of temporary housing for the homeless.

The Salvation Army and Red Cross operated field kitchens around the city to feed the homeless, and rescue and repair personnel rushed in from other cities.

President Johnson telephoned regrets of the nation and offered aid.

Gov. William Avery and officials of the federal Office of Emergency Planning ordered damage estimates which could lead to federal disaster grants for stricken areas.

Mayor Charles W. Wright Jr. planned to ask nearby cities for equipment and personnel to help clear debris. Some had already sent aid and others offered anything needed.

Heavy tree trunks, chucks of buildings, and battered cars littered many parts of town, even after a full day of cleanup which succeeded in opening all streets to some degree. One city official said the cleanup chore is expected to take at least four weeks.

The tornado was the worst in the city's history. It skipped over a mound at the southwest edge of town shortly before dusk Wednesday and, ranging up to one-half mile wide, it swept a 15-mile path of death and destruction through the city.

The flag flies over the capitol 24 hours a day.

Dramatic Radio Talk After Air Collision

EDWARDS AFB (UPI)—An Air Force investigation board heard dramatic radio tapes yesterday of the fatal collision of the triple-sonic XB-70 research bomber and an F-104 Starfighter chase plane flown by veteran test pilot Joe Walker.

Walker and Air Force Maj. Carl Cross, copilot of the $500 million XB-70, were killed Wednesday when the two planes plunged into the Mojave Desert north of Barstow.

The tapes contained a description of the collision by Air Force Col. Joe Cotton, who was riding in a T-38 chase plane when the impact occurred.

"Mid-air . . . mid-air . . . mid-air," Cotton could be heard saying.

Seconds later he calmly began to give instructions to the XB-70 pilot, Al White, with whom he had flown on most of the huge plane's mission.

"OK," Cotton said. "You're straight and level —good shape."

Then, "okay, it looks like your tail is gone . . . you'll probably spin . . .

"Now you're beginning to spin —bail out!"

As the six-jet bomber spun toward earth, Cotton reported:

"One capsule has ejected. I don't know which one." Seconds later he said, "It's the left capsule. Al is out."

For reasons unknown, neither Cross nor Walker ejected, however, and their bodies were found in the wreckage near the U.S. Army's Fort Irwin, about 45 miles east of Edwards.

The Air Force acknowledged yesterday that the collision occurred during a tight formation flight to allow pictures to be taken by a General Electric photographer flying in a civilian jet.

GE built the XB-70 jet engines, as well as the F-104 engine.

Air Academy Cadets Arrive

The first group of 450 cadets from the Air Force Academy arrived at Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday on a five-day field study for the Air Force in action.

The 78th Fighter Wing, as for the past six years, will show the cadets the working of the air defense command in deterring agression.

The cadets, who have just completed their freshman year at the academy, will visit Air Force bases and army units all during the summer.

Sausalito's Tiffany Beach was dedicated yesterday in memory of the late Stanley Cowen.

Cowen, former president of the Sausalito Rotary Club, was instrumental in establishing the recreational area on Bridgeway near Alexander Street. The ceremony was held near a rock on which a commemorative plaque is affixed. The beach was a project of the Rotary Club and the Sausalito Foundation.

Rev. John S. Thornton, pastor at Christ Episcopal Church; Halsey Lyon, club president, and Mrs. Cowen took part in the brief ceremony.

Congressmen Vote For Two Bills On Food, Packaging

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a packaging bill and the House a "Food for Freedom" measure before recessing for a long weekend.

The Senate's 71-9 approval yesterday of the fair-packaging and labeling bill marked a milestone in the six-year fight led by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to make it easier for housewives and other shoppers to compare the prices of competing brands.

The legislation would give the federal government authority to regulate the weights and quantities in which a product can be marketed.

However, before the government could impose controls on package sizes, the manufacturer would have to be given a chance to adopt voluntary standards acceptable to the secretary of commerce.

The House is expected to go along with the Senate version of the bill later this session.

The House's food bill also included a milestone of sorts: For the first time it would make all crops eligible, not just those labeled surplus. The measure now goes to the Senate.

As approved by a 330-20 vote, the $6.6 million, two-year program emphasized aid for those nations willing to do more to solve their own agricultural problems.

Larkspur Driver's Auto Hits House

Alirio Sarmiento Jr., 22, of 116 Ward Street, Larkspur, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, under treatment for leg lacerations suffered when his car hit a house in San Francisco last night.

San Francisco police said he was cited for speeding after his car hit the house of Marion Galletti of 388 Vallejo Street at 11:58 last night. The steps of the house were damaged.

'Beatnik Types' Sought In Doctor Offices Burglary

San Rafael police were looking today for three young men described as "beatnik types" in connection with the burglary of two doctors' ofices at 612 D Street.

An undetermined amount of narcotics was taken from Dr. Robert C. West's office Wednesday night, it was reported yesterday.

Dr. Robert D. Dunbar reported theft of two antique .22 caliber guns, one a single-shot pistol, the other a six-shot revolver, and a letter-opener with six-inch blade.

Prymarks showed an unsuccessful attempt to enter the Community Mental Health Service office on the floor above.

The suspects were said to be about 18, two with long blond hair, one with long red hair.

Salary Clarification

Salaries could be higher, lower or as recommended, Supervisor Peter H. Behr said yesterday in urging delay in acting on county salaries until after budget hearings. The Independent-Journal yesterday erred in reporting that Behr said only that salaries might be higher than recommended.

white areas, and vice versa, as in the Sausalito-Mill Valley student exchange programs in which Riles had a role.

Compensatory education programs, designed to help students from poor and backward homes, are drafted locally and financed by California's nearly $80 million share of President Johnson's aid-to-education bill. However, each program must be approved by the state board.

Mrs. Laurel Martin of Los Angeles, representing Parents for Better Education, protested the new rule, declaring that "parents of all creeds are against racial busing."

Mrs. Martin complimented the Los Angeles city Board of Education, which had drafted a $12 million compensatory education program, she said, without capitulating to "agitators and pressure groups who link all educational failures with the geographical location of the school room."

A challenge came from spokesmen for the United Civil Rights Committee of Los Angeles. They asked disapproval of the Los Angeles program because it did not provide for transporting Negro students from their neighborhoods.

Board President Thomas W. Braden and member William Norris joined in criticizing the Los Angeles Board for its handling of a threatened teacher shortage in Watts. Faced by the need for about 1,200 teachers, the city board has asked the state to delay enforcement of stiffer state teacher licensing requirements, that would have made recruitment more difficult.

Norris and Braden said they feared Los Angeles might not make every effort to hire regularly licensed teachers and therefore end with substandard teachers in an area that needs above standard teachers.

VOTE

Lynes E. Downing, got 1,434.

Delays stemming from imperfect ballots thus meant that the final tally was reached 43 hours after the polls closed Tuesday evening, instead of five hours as had been predicted by election officials.

"George," the computer at Civic Center, came to a dead halt Tuesday night every time it came to a ballot with the holes not fully punched or some other imperfection. Officials set all such ballots aside and did not begin the re-punching job until Wednesday. Things got still more complicated when they ran out of cards and had to send to an IBM plant for more.

Supervisor-elect McInnis today issued a statement thanking those who supported him in what he termed "a hard fought campaign."

He also commented on the death Wednesday of Paul R. Leahy, finance chairman of his campaign, who suffered a heart attack hours after they followed the election returns together. McInnis said Leahy's death "creates a feeling of deepest loss for all of us who knew and loved him. Our community has lost a fine man.

"I can only say that I will do everything in my power to carry out the principles of government on which we campaigned and in which Paul Leahy and I believed."

Grand Jury Criticizes Super-Agency Request

Marin County Grand Jury has come out in opposition to the county plan for a super-agency for health and welfare services.

The Grand Jury last night sent a letter to the board of supervisors asking that the $37,228 requested for the agency in the fiscal 1967 budget by County Administrator Alan Bruce be cut out.

The jury objected mainly to the fact that the study of whether to set up the department would be conducted by county employees who might later be running it.

In that opinion jurors found themselves in agreement with the chairman of the board of supervisors. Byron W. Leydecker on April 19 said he would rather have the agency idea studied by an outside consultant, rather than anyone directly interested.

The grand jury also called for hiring of a consultant.

"It is the opinion of the grand jury that, while proposed to be undertaken as a feasibility study, the result will be the establishment of a new department operated by the employees who are to make the study itself," the letter to the board said.

The agency, proposed in April by Bruce, would include within it the social services (welfare) department, medical department, health department, community mental health services, probation department, and veterans services office.

Also in the agency would be another section dealing with human relations and the war on poverty.

The grand jury letter stated, "The background work that has been presented to support such an agency does not appear to have had sufficient preparatory investigation."

move apparently eased the crisis.

Chau sent a telegram of support to Thich Tri Quang, the fiery Buddhist leader in Hue who has vowed to fast until President Johnson ends his support of the Ky government. But all indications were the Saigon Buddhists were adopting a more and more peaceful stand.

As the premier sent riot police into Hue, the failure of the Buddhist campaign was underlined by an announcement that Ky would fly to South Korea Monday to attend a conference of nine non-Communist nations.

Ky's announcement coincided with a declaration by the junta that it had conferred broad new powers on the premier to deal with South Viet Nam's chronic economic and financial problems.

Both announcements buttressed the general impression that the ruling generals considered themselves firmly entrenched despite weeks of agitation by the country's militant Buddhist minority to oust them.

With politics once more taking a back seat, the official Vietnamese press agency published a communique announcing that Ky had been authorized "to sign and promulate decrees on all measures relating to taxes, economic problems, foreign exchange and finance" in the next three months.

The implication was that the government intended to take drastic measures to cope with the country's galloping inflation in an effort to win popular confidence before the election Sept. 11 of a constitutional convention.

Under the impact of the war against the Viet Cong and the growing, free-spending U.S. military establishment, the cost of living has risen 55 per cent for working class Vietnamese in the past year. The figure is based on the cost of everyday products required by most of the country, particularly rice. Wages have lagged far behind.

Fog Shorts Out Power Wires

PACIFICA (UPI)— Thick fog short-circuited six power poles early today and touched off minor blazes.

Five of the utility pole fires occurred in Pacifica and another broke out in South San Francisoc.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesmen said the situation was typical for early summer as moisture collects on the dusty tops of the poles.

TRIAL

noon, a specialist with the California Bureau of Investigation and Identification at Sacramento matched spent bullets and cartridge cases found at the Mission Inn with guns found after the crime in Mallard Lake in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park.

The specialist, Allen E. Gilmore, gave detailed analysis of a spent .38-40-caliber bullet found near the spot where Ferrari fell. On it, he said, were fibers that matched those on the victim's trousers, and impressed on the soft lead nose of the bullet was a grid pattern that matched the trousers' pattern and weave.

Gilmore said it could have been fired from a .38-40 caliber single action revolver identified as one used by Osuna and Gorman in an earlier holdup. It was found in Mallard Lake.

Gilmore was more positive in identifying a .45 caliber automatic found in the lake as having fired two bullets at the inn. This was the .45 that Leo Albertoni, co-owner of the inn, said earlier was found in his rear apartment by the gunmen.

He also said that a blood-stained .45 caliber bullet found where Ferrari fell could have been fired by the same gun.

BIRTHDAY

1916 period or semi-formal is listed as the appropriate attire.

The Sunday celebration will begin at 1:30 p.m. with formation of a parade, which will include representatives of homeowner, service, civic, business and youth groups, at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Grand marshal of the parade will be Larry Yoell of 3 Montecito Drive, Corte Madera. A writer of old-time songs, on which he still collects royalties, Yoell is a school crossing guard at Montecito Drive and Redwood Avenue.

Seated on a captain's chair, Yoell will ride the parade in a 1922 Dodge pickup truck. Parade queen will be Mrs. Nellie Fisher of 310 Redwood Avenue, a longtime resident of Corte Madera.

Along with town residents marching under their respective association banners, the parade will include 30 vintage automobiles and a color guard from Marin County's Marine Corps Reserve.

Also strutting in the parade will be Carol Murata of Fawn Court, Corte Madera, a sophomore at Redwood High School whose accomplishments include the international strutting championship at the World's Fair in Seattle and "Miss Majorette of the Golden West," awarded at the state fair. She is also head majorette at the high school.

The parade will set out at 2 p.m. from the school and will march to the Corte Madera center, past a reviewing stand at the town recreation center.

The celebration will conclude with an afternoon at the shopping center. The Southern Pacific band will give a concert. Horseless carriages will be on display. Volunteer firemen will stage a water fight.

Bus Strike Makes Span Traffic Grow

The Greyhound bus strike has increased commuter traffic over the Golden Gate Bridge by 10.6 per cent, general manager James Adams reported to Golden Gate Bridge District directors today.

Adam said the heavier traffic load is not causing too much congestion because the commuters seem to be heading for work earlier and leaving work later.

Thomas D. Hardcastle, Marin director, reported it takes him five minutes longer to get from his Novato home to San Francisco.

The traffic statistics for May shows commute cars rose by 10.6 per cent over May of last year, and the overall traffic increased by 7.4 per cent over May of last year.

Directors also went on record opposing the McCarthy-McAteer Senate resolution which asks them to delay the second dick until after the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission submits its report in 1967.

Director Ben K. Lerer, who is a member of BATSC, said the commission has no intention of studying the second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge. No useful purpose could be served by delaying, he contended.

The directors, meeting at St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, adjourned in memory of Paul R. Leahy, San Rafael civic leader, who died of a heart attack Wednesday.

Court Upholds Death Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Supreme Court today affirmed the death penalty conviction of Edmond Earl Reeves for the pistol slaying of Floyd Parsons near Bakersfield March 24, 1965.

Reeves, 27, of Oildale, shot Parsons in the back after robbing him and Paul Pugh, and forcing them to walk away with him. Pugh escaped injury and later identified Reeves as the killer.

The supreme court unanimously rejected Reeves' contention that he was not adequately represented by counsel and that he did not know what was going on at his trial.

General Admits Boot Problems

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressman's complaint to President Johnson that a soldier in Viet Nam had written home for work shoes drew an admission from the Army today that there had been "some local temorary shortages" of new combat boots.

Rep. Ed Reinecke, R-Calif., wrote the President to ask why soldiers in Viet Nam could not obtain footwear when the government was using antipoverty funds for "outfitting 16 teen-age boys for a junior prom and is treating them and their dates to dinner under the guise of 'culture development.'"

Reincke received a response from Lt. Gen. L.J. Lincoln, deputy chief of staff for logistcis, who said there were local shortages generally resulting "from not having the right size delievered at the right time and place rather than over-all shortages."

Summer began at 2:30 p.m. yesterday for these children at West End School, San Rafael. They and all other San Rafael high school and elementary school students raced home to start their vacations a week ahead of other Marin youngsters. The 1965-66 term ends next Thursday in the Dixie, Mill Valley, Ross, Sausalito and Novato Unified School Districts, next Friday in other Marin districts. (Independent-Journal photo)

Novelist's Home Looted Of $45,000 In Jewels

Burglars ransacked the two-story home of Sausalito novelist Calvin Kentfield last night and made off with jewelry, furs and other items valued at more than $45,000.

Kentfield, whose most recent novel is "All Men are Mariners," is in Lapland on an assignment for Holiday magazine.

Mrs. Kentfield left her home at 214 West Street for about four hours to go to the movies at Marin Theater in Sausalito. There was no one in the residence except the Kentfield's Great Dane puppy—locked in the kitchen because he chews furniture—and two cats.

Stolen were $39,500 in jewelry, most of which had been removed from a safety deposit box earlier this month; $4,420 in furs, and $913 in other items including Mrs. Kentfield's typewriter, traveler's checks valued at $380, an airline ticket to Mexico, worth $293, and a $100 pair of binoculars.

A unit from the sheriff's department was called in to assist Sausalito police in lifting fingerprints.

Most of the jewelry and the furs were insured, Mrs. Kentfield said today. She said she planned to leave by air Monday to join her husband and had taken some of the jewelry from the deposit box to take with her, and other pieces because she intended to sell them.

Mrs. Kentfield told police she left home at 6:50 p.m., on return at 10:40 p.m., she found her house "very messy," with drawers opened, contents disarrayed and belongings strewn on beds.

Robert Miller Is Critical

Robert H. Miller, 51, of San Rafael, was in critical condition in a semicoma at Marin General Hospital today.

Miller was alone at his home at 534 Canal Street last night when California-Marin Ambulance was called to the home. He was found there in a coma, and no information was available today on who called for the ambulance.

Miller was a vocational counselor at San Quentin Prison until he retired in October.

Mrs. Miller is secretary to Jack Craemer, editor and co-publisher of the Independent-Journal. She was attending a business dinner at the West End Villa when San Rafael police called her at 7:10 p.m. to tell her that her husband had been taken to the hospital.

Soviet Pledges Help For Hanoi

MOSCOW (UPI) —Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev said today the Kremlin is making new efforts to help North Viet Nam and "will strengthen its defense power."

Brezhnev gave no details of either the defense or the aid moves.

But his speech in the Kremlin's Palace of Congresses bristled with apparent Soviet determination to see the Vietnamese Communists' through to the bitter end in their war with the "American imperialists."

Pre-Dawn Flight To Climax Health Mission To Mexico

Before dawn tomorrow, a C-123 Fairchild Provider will leave Hamilton Air Force Base. Its engines may wake a few sleeping residents of Marin County.

But the residents of Marin County are the ones whose generosity have made the flight possible.

The plane will be carrying five tons of x-ray and medical equipment and supplies as a gift from the people of Marin to those of Zacapu in the back country of the state of Guanajuato, Mexico.

Called the Alliance of Health, the project grew out of the desire of Dr. Richard S. Hahn of Belvedere to do something for the 5,000 tuberculosis cases in that Mexican community.

With the supplies ready, the Air Force had promised its help in getting them to their destination.

Maj. Johnny G. Kacsmaryk of the 4650th Combat Support Squadron will take the plane, loaded with supplies, off the runway at 4:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Invitation Not Delivered?

Directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District last night wondered why they did not receive an invitation to appear last night before the board of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District to discuss sewer problems.

The invitation went in a letter May 21 to Thomas G. Hendricks, deputy county counsel.

"We never saw a copy of the letter," Mrs. Marguerite F. Clark, CSD secretary, said today.

Can a loyal Marin Resident find happiness living at San Francisco's Golden Gateway Center?

Mr. Robert Chiacco:
"Definitely! I used to drive over the Bridge four or more times a day. Now I'm near work and entertaining is easier. The weather here is the best in San Francisco and the apartments are comfortable, sound-proof and well maintained."

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Donahue:
"Yes, we especially like the location. The best restaurants in the world are within walking distance, and the shopping arcades are an elevator ride from our apartment. We enjoy the view and the safe feeling of having a doorman and security officers."

If you are presently among those who must commute daily to San Francisco, heed the words of these nice people. They have discovered the joys of living at Golden Gateway Center in the new heart of the City, just two blocks from the financial district, fine restaurants and other attractions. Consider how pleasant it would be if you lived in one of our apartments, each with balcony or terrace, where the rent includes all utilities, appliances and wall-to-wall carpeting. Maid service, catering, inside parking stalls and furnished apartments are available. Drive down one of these days soon and look over Golden Gateway Center for yourself. Walk through the parks, plazas and shopping arcades, then inspect the model apartments. They're open every day from 10 to 6. SHY ABOUT POLITICS

Vietnamese Pilots Pay Visit To Marin Home

By CAROL MARSH

Two Vietnamese officers visiting this week in the home of Maj. and Mrs. Earl W. Deneau of Greenbrae speak and understand English quite well except when the topic is politics.

Tang Nong, 25, and Vu Van Thanh, 22, both second lieutenants in the Vietnamese Air Force, are spending eight months in training at Randolph Air Force Base in Texas under the United States' military assistance program.

Both had logged about 1,000 hours flight time in light aircraft in Viet Nam. They are training to fly heavy fighters and bombers. They will return to Viet Nam next November.

Major Deneau met them at Randolph Air Base, and they came to his home at 10 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, Tuesday as guests, and were to leave today.

Asked their opinion of the reasons for the Buddhist uprisings in Viet Nam now against the government of Nguyen Cao Ky, Thanh explained that as soldiers he and Nong just listen to and obey orders, and don't worry about politics.

"Our purpose is to fight communists," Nong said.

Asked whether they understand what the Buddhists are protesting by burning and starving themselves to death, Thanh replied, "I think they're crazy."

Nong disagreed to the extent that he doesn't think the Buddhists are "crazy," and had a brief discussion with Thanh in Vietnamese.

Both said the Ky government is strong, and they don't expect it to be overthrown. "At least we hope the Ky government will last for a long time," Nong said. "He's a good general."

Asked whether the people of Viet Nam understand the reasons for the presence of United States troops in their country, Thanh said:

"I don't have any idea about that, but the United States is a friend to Viet Nam. The American soldier is a good soldier."

Nong replied: "Yes, they understand that we need United States help to fight the communists. They are very grateful."

Both said they believe the war will continue "for a long time," and that United States troops will have to be kept in their country until the war is over.

In the meantime, they are enjoying their stay in the United States. They stopped for two nights in Las Vegas on their way to visit the Deneaus. Thanh won $25, and Nong lost $10, but both liked the city.

The Deneaus took them on a tour of San Francisco.

"Your cities are much bigger and brighter than cities in Viet Nam," Nong noted.

They liked the weather in Marin. "In Texas it's hot — very much like Viet Nam. In Texas I get homesick," Thanh said.

Nong completed two years at the Saigon University of Law before joining the Air Force. Thanh joined the Air Force as soon as he graduated from high school.

"We are very proud to be pilots," Nong said.

County To Rescue Ross Mental Clinic

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Ross psychiatric clinic got a reprieve from county supervisors today, and the action brought applause from about 40 backers of the facility.

Dr. Clyde Miller, director of Marin Community Health Services, was one of the few who did not clap. His policies were under fire during the hour-long discussion.

The clinic, in operation since January of 1964, has offered outpatient care for $10 to $15 an hour, compared to the $20 to $30 fee of private psychiatrists.

Support for the clinic, however, was recently turned down by the United Bay Area Crusade, which contended there was not evidence of broad membership in the clinic board.

In a letter to supervisors, Leonard Shaw, president of the board, asked that the county put up $5,000 to keep the clinic in operation until the end of 1966. Otherwise it would close June 30 and 183 patients would have to go elsewhere for treatment.

In another letter William L. Bewley, president of the Marin Mental Health Assn., said the county contract with the clinic could provide support from Short-Doyle Act money.

He said the association had repeatedly urged study of such a contract by Dr. Miller. "There has been no explanation of his failure to contract with Ross Psychiatric Clinic," Bewley wrote.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr asked Dr. Miller what objection there would be to contracting with the clinic for treatment of county patients.

Dr. Miller said it would require an amendment in the state's approval of Marin's program. Also, he said, too much public assistance for a private operation might mean the private concern would lose its identity.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he had asked Miller to present information on costs of county care and other figures, but Dr. Miller said he was aware only a half hour before the discussion began that supervisors were to discuss it today.

He said he did not know what the county costs per hour of treatment were, but judged they were under $15 or $16.

All supervisors agreed that private services that would cut the tax load should be encouraged.

Kettenhofen moved the clinic be granted $5,000 a month on a temporary basis up to a maximum of five months to keep it open. Meanwhile contract agreements will be drawn and application for Short-Doyle funds made.

Dr. Miller also said during the discussion that the county staff was capable of taking on the 183 patients now treated by the clinic.

"You must have a surplus of staff around," Kettenhofen said.

Dr. Miller said the state's Casey Act on medical care had made some patients eligible for private treatment and "lifted the load."

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, a member of the county's mental health advisory committee said his views on use of contract agencies got so little encouragement from other members that he stopped attending meetings because they "developed largely into a waste of time."

Supervisors ordered that the county administrator look into contracting with other groups, such as the Marin Institute on Alcoholism and the Family Service Agency.

Do-It-Yourself Signal No Good

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A crutch does not make a legally acceptable traffic signal, a crippled widow who used one to guide traffic at an intersection has learned.

Vernice Hunter, 51, who became a self-appointed traffic director when she couldn't get a traffic light installed in her neighborhood, was fined $1 yesterday for obstructing traffic.

The judge said he was sympathetic, but he told Mrs. Hunter, "Taking the law into your hands is not the right way."

Experts Differ On Electability Of Convicts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's chief deputy attorney general and San Francisco's city attorney say a man convicted of a felony can not run for public office. An assistant Santa Clara County counsel disagrees.

That came out yesterday when City Atty. Thomas M. O'Connor ruled that Russell L. Wolden can not seek re-election in November because he was convicted of accepting bribes to decrease tax assessments.

Chief Dept. Atty. Gen. Charles A. O'Brien agreed unofficially, saying that "in 1964, the attorney general and the director of the State Judicial Council agreed that a Mendocino County justice, suspended from office after a conviction, could not file as a candidate for re-election."

But Maurice Hardeman, suspended San Jose judge who was convicted of conspiracy, ran for re-election in Tuesday's primary election and his placement on the ballot had the backing of assistant Santa Clara County counsel Robert Kennedy.

Kennedy said the registrar of voters must accept filing papers from anyone as long as they were in accordance with law.

Hardeman got 18,325 votes to lead the race and faces County Clerk Paul Teilh in the November runoff. Teilh got 17,004 votes.

O'Connor, in ruling against Wolden, cited the State Constitution which says a person can not hold public office if convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude.

Kramer Herzog is governor of San Rafael Lodge 1803, Loyal Order of Moose.

Fairfax Council Votes Employee Pay Boosts

The Fairfax City Council last night approved pay raises ranging from 2.5 per cent to 12.5 per cent for full-time city employees.

City Administrator David J. Sumbardo said the council approved the raises by motion last night, and will formally approve them by resolution at the regular city council meeting Monday at 8 p.m.

The police and fire chief were given a 12.5 per cent raise, making their new pay range $763 to $927. The city administrator received a 10 per cent increase, making his new pay range $10,950 to $11,055. Then per cent increases were also given to the administrative secretary, new range $395 to $481; police and firemen, new range $446 to $676, and police sergeants and fire captains, new range $598 to $727.

Five per cent increases were given to the park maintenance man, new range $481 to $584, the building inspector, new range $584 to $710, and the director of public works, new range $821 to $998, and the city clerk, new range $495 to $581.

A raise of 2.5 per cent was given to the street maintenance man, new range $460 to $570 and the public works foreman, new range $493 to $598.

A new position of fire prevention officer was created, Sumbardo said, and will be filled by a promotion from the fire department. The range set for his position was $584 to $710.

Raises for part-time employees will be considered later, reported the city administrator.

Houlihan Denies Embezzlement

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Former Mayor John C. Houlihan entered a plea of innocent today in Alameda County Superior Court to a charge of stealing about $97,000 from the estate of Mrs. Sarilla Whitlock while he was its conservator.

Judge Redmond C. Staats ordered Houlihan to return to court July 15, when he will set the trial date.

Houlihan resigned the mayor's job after heirs of the estate, including Mrs. Lillian Searle of Novato, filed a civil suit to recover the money they charged was missing.

Mill Valley Firemen Told Of Sky Mystery

Mill Valley firemen received a report from a resident last night of a "ball of fire" flying through the air, apparently landing near the Bolsa water tank on Greenwood Way.

Mrs. Howard B. Bleyle of 630 West Blithedale made the report at 9:30 p.m., saying she and her son saw the object going over their house. Firemen said they checked with the fire lookout atop Mount Tamalpais but he had no report of the fire ball.

Supervisors Ask Study Of Heliport

Marin County supervisors today asked study of a second helicopter site in Marin.

The request was referred to the County Aviation Commission after supervisors agreed to ask the State Division of Highways to post directional signs for the present site on Richardson Bay.

That site may have to be abandoned since owners of the land, Commodore Properties, have plans for a motel there. The commission is studying a possible location on state land near the southern end of Richardson Bay Bridge, not far from the present site.

Center Plans Disrupt Marin City Meeting

A meeting of the Marin City Community Services District board reportedly "disintegrated" last night when youths, led by a San Francisco attorney, charged the board with lack of accomplishments in its eight-year history.

Under discussion were two plans for a recreation center:

1. A one-third million dollar center to be paid for by federal and county funds for which tentative plans were presented by Belvedere architect Karl Treffinger.

2. A "pre-fab type" center, proposed by San Francisco attorney Donald Warden, to be built by Marin City youths who would also receive education courses two hours per day at work breaks.

John A. Thomson, board secretary, said 150 people attended the special meeting in St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church.

Board chairman Jesse E. Berry explained how the board worked to get money provided two-thirds by federal and one-third by county funds. Architect Treffinger explained the plans.

"Will there be room for senior citizens activities?" and "why isn't there a swimming pool in the plan?" residents asked.

The board said there would be a space allotted for senior citizens. There is no swimming pool in the plan because California Development Co., redeveloper, plans to build an Olympic type pool in Marin City.

Warden, representing the Afro-American Assn. and Dignity Homes Inc., offered to build the prefabricated building and asked to be allowed to make a bid.

Thomson said Warden suggested that if his proposed building is not built, there will be riots and vandalism in Marin City this summer.

Board members said they did not want to forfeit the federal grant. Warden, said Thomson, retorted, "that's all right, I can raise $500,000."

Warden was invited to present details to a regular board meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday in the church.

"From then on the meeting deteriorated," said Thomson.

About 15 young people spoke, said the secretary, "the whole tenor being to find fault with the board. I left at 11 o'clock."

Complaints included that the board did not go to homes and talk about plans. The board said that all meetings are public and are published in the newspapers. The answer, Thomson said, was "who reads the newspapers?"

Director Juanita Cobb said "no board has worked as hard as the present one." Mrs. Cleo Simpson agreed.

Atlantic Jet Pilots Win On Corridors

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The United States, Britain and Canada today suspended the controversial 90-mile corridors for jets flying the North Atlantic and agreed to return to the old separation width of 120 miles.

The surprise announcement was a resounding victory for airline pilots who have denounced the 90-mile standard as unsafe.

Gun Game Is Fatal To Sacramento Youth

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gerald Tiedeman, 22, Sacramento, died in a Sacramento Hospital yesterday, the loser in a game of Russian roulette.

Tiedeman shot himself in the head Sunday.

Attorney Is Charged In Bar Dispute

A Belvedere attorney was arrested early today on a citizen's warrant after he allegedly assaulted a Tiburon bartender.

Robert L. Harmon, 36, of 20 Eucalyptus Road, who is in practice in San Francisco, was reported to have grabbed bartender Robert L. Cunard at a bar at 39 Main Street about 2 a.m. and hit him.

Cunard said the incident occurred after he had taken away a drink from Harmon who, he said, had slumped forward across the bar.

Sheriff's Deputy Arthur Wiggins said an attorney friend of Harmon, who was with him at the bar, kept up a constant barrage of legal chatter making it difficult for Harmon to be taken into custody.

Harmon was released on $276 bail and ordered to appear in Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m.

$250.00 FOR YOUNG PEOPLE UNDER 21
1st $100 Bond
2nd $ 75 Bond
3rd $ 50 Bond
4th $ 25 Bond

You Can Win — Enter Now!

Send in your estimate of the number of news stories "favorable" to young people (under 21 years of age) which will be published during June in the Independent-Journal. "Favorable" stories are those which report any and all activities of young people which may be considered constructive and from which no inference may be drawn that the activity or behavior reported is harmful to the young people involved or to society. (As opposed, for example, to delinquency).

Stories may cover every aspect of community life: education, cultural activities, jobs, social affairs, athletics, clubs, travel, hobbies, politics, business, careers, vacation activities, meetings, conferences, college plans, etc. Note: the Independent-Journal will report the normal run of such activities throughout the month of June.

PANEL OF CONSULTANTS TO AID

News stories will be reviewed for content and evaluation by a panel composed of:

- VIRGIL S. HOLLIS, Marin County Superintendent of Schools
- PAUL MILLER, Instructor in Journalism, College of Marin
- MRS. LILLIAN SEAVER, Lecturer in Journalism, English Dept., Dominican College
- EDWARD J. NEUMEIER, Coordinator of Public Information, Tamalpais Union High School District

Marked copies of the Independent-Journal showing the evaluation of each news story will be on public display following completion of the contest.

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

1. Contest open to everyone — all ages
2. Two prize groups for adults and young people under 21.
3. Only one entry per person allowed.
4. Use Contest Entry blank shown here.
5. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, Tuesday, June 21.
6. In case of ties, first postmarked entries win. Decisions of judges final.
7. I-J employees and families not eligible.

A FEW OBSERVATIONS ON THE CONTEST

The Independent-Journal and the panel of consultants recognize that evaluation of what is "favorable" or "unfavorable" in a news story constitutes an opinion. Some stories undoubtedly will appear controversial; others may lie within a neutral "gray" zone. In the main, however, the great bulk of stories fall within the familiar bounds of what society as a whole considers either favorable or unfavorable. Every attempt will be made to apply reasonable interpretations. Determinations by the panel will be final.

Man Indicted On Morals Charges

A 30-year-old Fairfax man has been indicted for child molesting by Marin County Grand Jury.

Alan K. Loveless of 142 Porteous Avenue was arrested yesterday on a bench warrant and later released on $3,500 bail. A hearing was set for Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in Marin Municipal Court.

The indictment charged that Loveless molested an 8-year-old child last October and again last month. He is also accused of molesting a 6-year-old child last month.

Senate District Ballot Count

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, received a total primary vote of 40,901 the new Fourth Senatorial District, which includes two counties and part of a third.

His Democratic opponent, Assemblyman Pearce Young of Napa, drew 48,425 votes. The two men will square off in November for the showdown.

The Democrats outnumber Republicans 95,516 to 69,254 in the Fourth Senatorial District.

Here is the vote breakdown by counties:

	McCarthy	Young
Marin	25,428	18,213
Napa	7,671	11,756
Solano	7,802	18,456
	40,901	48,425

Savings Bonds purchased prior to December 1, 1965, when the current interest rate of 4.15 per cent became effective, will earn an additional 4/10 of 1 per cent from now on, which brings their rate of yield into line with current bonds.

Three Ventures Into Space For Next Gemini

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) —A "space stand" and two separate spacewalks will be part of the flight plan for astronaut Michael Collins next month during the three-day Gemini 10 mission, due to start July 18.

Collins, 35, an Air Force major, will be the co-pilot on the flight with John Young, who went aloft with Gus Grissom in the first manned Gemini capsule last year.

Collins will first go out for a spacewalk at the end of a 50-foot line, and possibly touch the Agena satellite that will precede the capsule into orbit.

Then Collins will open the hatch and stand up in his seat to take pictures of the zodiacal light in space and possibly of another Agena target vehicle that was left in orbit after the trouble-plagued flight of Gemini 8 last March.

Finally Collins will go back outside the spaceship again to rid himself of his "extra-vehicular activity," or EVA, equipment, which would make itself cumbersome during entry.

Chou Trip Planned

VIENNA (UPI) —Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai will visit Romania later this month, the official Romanian news agency Agerpres reported today.

A compass has 32 points.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Headgear Provides Final Charm To Renovated Le Chalet Basque

Now that Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia has gotten its new look, its new chef settled down and new menu of perhaps 20 entrees geared up to the satisfaction of restaurateur Raymond Coscarat, the picture has taken an even lighter turn with Basque caps for all the staff except the chef, of course, who has his own tradition to observe.

It's surprising what a simple touch like this can do to an liven things.

But mainly, here's a place for the diner-out who wants his dinner stylized according to the European mode without having to pay a whacking big price for it. The beauty of it is that you can have this fare straight from chef Bernard Epstein's kitchen on immediate notice, as he is prepared for just about any request that comes along.

On weekends the culinary staff is augmented to deliver quick service in spite of a longer list of visitors these days. But for quick seating at such time, I'd still recommend phoning ahead if your party is large.

Did I say 20 items on the menu? It's more like 25 and includes palatables as chicken cordon bleu, duck a la Biarritz (highly recommended), veal chanterelle and even veal scallopini.

Somewhere along the line you should order Bernard's prized coulibiac of salmon. It's on the menu regularly on Fridays, and if you phone ahead other evenings he makes a special point to prepare it. If there are five or six people, that is. This is a baked dish and can't be done just for two.

I CHECKED THIS OUT with travel agent Bert Talbot: Yes, the Tiburon Champagne Dinner Cruises Thursday nights are still adaptable for Marin residents. You do not have to drive to Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco to pick up the 6:45 ferry.

Drive to Tiburon, take the 6:10 p.m. boat to Fisherman's Wharf and then come back with the champagne party. When you've finished dinner at the Dock, El Borro, Sam's, Tiburon Tommie's or the Windjammer, jump in your car and take off home. Package price is $7.50 per person. Phone Champagne Dinner Cruise Co., Town and Country Village in Strawberry for reservations.

MY FIRST EXPERIENCE with a "Pimm's Cup" was a few years ago—Pimm's Number One, I think it was, using gin, the traditional cucumber, wedge of apple and twist of lemon—and the identifying Pimm's mix which is cool and refreshing. Served in a metal cup, equally cool and refreshing.

Not many cocktail lounges in the county offer this regularly, though some will make a point of doing so if you bring your own cucumber. Perhaps there are more places than I know about, but I keep forgetting to ask.

Anyway, I find now that Peter Alioto's Arbordale in Sausalito makes a specialty of Pimm's—not just with gin or scotch—but the complete list of numbers from 1 through 6. These include mixes with bourbon and also vodka.

In the lounge here is a clever new piece of statuary—new in the sense that it was recently picked up by Tanya Alioto. It's a cast bronze figure made in England around 1850 and no doubt a real collector's item.

Current entertainment attraction at the piano nightly is Johnny Cutlip, formerly of Reuben's in Newport Beach. Has a voice something like Mel Torme's.

WHAT IS the right background for a capable restaurateur?

Chef? Businessman? Waiter? Food dilettante? Certainly any one of these qualifications is helpful. If a man has the experience of all of them he's a shoo-in for the job. And the only way to get experience in something is to go out and do it.

Take Bill Bisson, for instance. He's co-owner and manager of Bill and Adolph's West End Villa in San Rafael. At the age of 13 he started to learn about restaurants working at the old Del Monte Lodge. Think dishwashing doesn't give you valuable experience? If your mind is on the job it does. For one thing, scraping off plates, you can get to know what people don't like—and that's important.

Bill picked up experience in every department and put in long hours as he got into the swing. Then when he's won his first spurs he left to go with Matson Steamship Line. He started as a waiter and worked his way up to chief steward of all food and service for the different Matson steamers. He made 29 trips to Australia, went around the world three times and stopped off in 87 ports. Talk about a chance to learn variety in food.

After he and Vera got married in 1941, it was San Francisco and a stint at the Palace Hotel. Then to Grison's where he was manager of both the Chicken House and the Steak House off and on for 18 years. Between times he and his present partner, Adolph Motta opened the Paris Louvre in 1952 which was sold again in 1957. Still more time at Grison's—until he and Adolph took over West End Villa last year and rebuilt it from kitchen sink to chandeliers.

Me—all I do is eat the food. I feel a little humble before a man who has spent that much time learning the opposite side of the business.

PANDORA RESTAURANT, on the south side of Red Hill (the hill itself—not the avenue), San Anselmo, will now serve lunches from 11:30 a.m. Mondays through Fridays. Complete lunches at $1.95—and there's a cute table service gimmick here which should give you a pleasant surprise. (No, I won't—you'll have to discover that for yourself.)

As far as dinners are concerned, Monday will still be the night of closing. Open throughout the rest of the week.

Now heading the chef's department is Keith Thompson of Santa Venetia, who has lived in the county about 15 years and was recently moved up from sous chef. Keith has worked in Marin at such places as Sabella's, La Petite Auberge and the Redwood Club, and prior to the reopening of the Pandora in March he was at Michel's Restaurant in San Francisco. Good man.

IF YOU SHOULD be bent on having lunch at Gregory's in Corte Madera tomorrow, you'll eat it in the cocktail lounge or on the patio. Gregory Seubert will turn over the rest of his tables at the noon hour to Corte Madera dignitaries who are meeting here in celebration of the town's 50th anniversary.

However, outside tables will be gaily decorated with blue check covers — and later Gregory will have hamburgers at 25 cents a throw and hot dogs at 15 cents among the booths and stands at the Paradise Shopping Center, while an old-time German band plays on and on.

NEW MENU in effect at King Cotton features complete breakfasts, lunches and dinners as well as midnight special celections. Thee will vary from time to time, but along the line you can look for such dinner entrees as fried chicken, pot roast bordelaise, spareribs, veal scallopini, beef brochette, crab casserole, roast duck a la orange—and so on.

New innovations for breakfast: Eggs Juanita and King Cotton Philadelphia pancakes.

THE GRIDDLE in San Rafael has applied for an on-sale beer and wine license. Give it time to be approved. Probably some time next month you can order.

THE LAST TIME I talked to owner Stanley Toy, he was hoping to get the Kublai Khan restaurant open in Strawberry Town and Country Village by Father's Day—the end of next week. There's still a lot of work to be done—particularly in the kitchen, without the use of which there's no opening.

Nice decor and atmosphere—should be a most interesting place.

Ambulance Firm Plans Garage

Plans for a concrete block garage at 1314 Lincoln Avenue by United Ambulance Co. will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Commissioners also will consider a variance permit to allow the ambulance firm to build the garage with no setback from side and rear property lines. Five-foot setbacks are normally required.

The commission will hold another chapter in an extended hearing on whether to add a "planned unit development" category to the zoning ordinance.

PROGRESS AT PUERTO SUELLO

Morris-Knudsen Co., rebuilding the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's Puerto Suello tunnel in San Rafael, has almost reached the section under Lincoln Avenue where the burning tunnel collapsed under the road five years ago. An Alto Fire Department truck plunged into the hole, killing one fireman. After a long legal battle to drop the service to San Rafael, NWP is under orders from the State Public Utilities Commission to re-open the tunnel.

(Independent-Journal photos)

FIVE YEARS AGO—Two little boys set a fire in the Puerto Suello tunnel July 20, 1961, and before firemen extinguished it the tunnel had burned away. Lincoln Avenue had collapsed into the tunnel and a fireman was killed. This was the scene after an Alto fire truck dropped into the hole in Lincoln Avenue, killing the fireman who was driving it. More Negro Nurses Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A University of Colorado coed, Miss Johnene Danforth, implies it takes psychology to recruit Negroes into nursing.

Miss Danforth, 20, is attending the National Student Nurses Assn. convention that opened yesterday.

She said the nursing profession has been less than encouraging to Negroes, but "this formula seems to work. Convince members of minority groups that our profession needs and wants them, and there is a future—a fine future—for a skilled nurse."

Association president Nancy Johnson, 22, of the University of Nevada, said 3.1 per cent of American Negroes are nurses whereas 10 per cent of the population is of that race.

Tiburon Wife Found Dead In Home

Mrs. Maria B. Mantegani, 72, longtime resident of Tiburon, was found hanged yesterday in her home at 883 Tiburon Boulevard County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said today it apparently was suicide.

Mrs. Mantegani had been seriously ill for two years. She was last seen at 8 a.m. yesterday by her husband, Baldassare (Pop) Mantegani. She was found at 1:30 p.m. by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bernice Mantegani.

Rosary will be held at 8 p.m. today at Keaton's Mortuary, 1022 E Street, San Rafael.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon, with the cortege forming at 9 a.m. at Keaton's Morutary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Rights Unit Asks Budget Increases

The Marin County Human Rights Commission last night asked for a budget of $26,017 next fiscal year which would provide for a fulltime executive officer and a secretary.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, who attended the meeting, told commissioners he would recommend that supervisors approve the budget.

The executive officer position would have a salary ranging from $829 to $1,008 a month.

The commission named commissioner Bella H. Aaron to the employment committee.

Tiburon City Officers Get New Quarters

The Tiburon city government today moved into its new two-story "City Hall" at 80 Main Street.

The new rented building will provide the two-year-old city with its first municipal center. It will house both the five-member city staff and the Tiburon sheriff's substation, which provides police serivce.

"We'll spend the weekend getting squared away," City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said," and be open for business Monday."

Originally the city staff was to move at the end of the month, but Rose said he decided to move today since it was moving day for the sheriff's substation.

The city is renting the 2,700 square foot building from Fred G. Zelinsky for $575 a month on a five-year lease.

On the second floor of the new building,—which is ground level with Main Street—is a wide public reception area that leads into a central office area for secretaries. Along part of the front and the sides are separate ofifces for Rose, City Engineer Ray Foreacker, and a zoning administrator, yet to be appointed, and a conference room.

The bottom floor holds the sheriff's substation in a rear corner office and a 50-seat city council chamber, not yet completed. Both face into Zelinsky's parking lot between Main Street and Juanita Lane.

The city staff moved out of a three-room suite of offices in a commercial building at 1610 Tiburon Boulevard.

Rose said the city council and planning commission would continue to meet at Del Mar School, although a ceremonial council meeting might be held in the new chamber June 23 to celebrate the city's second anniversary.

Professor Injured

An ankle injury will prevent Prof. Allan Nevins from making his scheduled commencement address at Sonoma State College tomorrow. Dr. Rodman W. Paul, chairman of the History Department at California Institute of Technology, will substitute for him and speak on the same topic "The National Purpose."

Ambulance Fee Increase Not Decided

Sausalito city councilmen discussed raising the charge for use of the city's emergency ambulance last night but took no action.

The charge is now $18.50 to carry a patient from Sausalito to Marin General Hospital.

Private ambulance companies charge $35 and the council itself, said city Mgr. Charles A. Brown. Sausalito firemen are in charge of the city ambulance.

Councilmen discussed adding $4,000 to a program for replacing water mains throughout the city.

They tentatively added $1,200 to the police department budget for consulting services, and cut out $600 for lockers for policemen.

The next budget session is at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, the next regular council meeting at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

Lesley Madsen, 48, of 625 Louise Avenue, Novato, was convicted of drunken driving and fined $276 in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday.

He was arrested by the California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 in Novato Saturday.

California Leading Nation In Handling LSD Dangers

California leads the nation in recognizing and dealing with the potential dangers of LSD in the hands of the laymen.

The state Legislature passed and the Governor has signed a bill that makes unauthorized possession or knowing use of the drug a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum fine of $1,000 or a year in jail.

Unauthorized manufacture or sale of the drug is made a felony punishable by one to five years for the first offense; two to ten years for a second offense.

However, experimental and psychiatric use of the drug by authorized laboratories or institutions is permitted under the law.

The aim of the law is to curb the use of LSD by thrill seekers while permitting experimental and psychiatric use of the drug by qualified laboratories or institutions.

This is as it should be.

Congress is also taking testimony on the LSD problem. We hope that these hearings will lead to strengthening federal laws.

It is possible that properly supervised use of LSD for psychotherapy can produce beneficial results. Some medical evidence tends to support this view.

On the other hand, evidence also is mounting that random use of the drug by persons who are not highly skilled is extremely dangerous.

Dr. Timothy Leary, a psychologist who was dismissed from Harvard for his experiments with the drug, is quoted as saying that by taking LSD "you definitely go out of your mind."

This is consistent with some of the tragic results reported among users of LSD. They have thrown themselves out of windows, jumped in front of moving traffic, or been seized with the compulsion to commit a violent crime.

The complete and lasting effects of LSD are not fully known. Until they are, the drug should NOT be easily accessible to every individual who wants to experiment—with his own life and perhaps that of others.

We agree with Sen. George Murphy, who testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee's Special Subcommittee on Narcotics:

"If we are to err in our judgment, let it be on the side of safety. Let medical science continue its research, reach its final verdict, but until they do, let us not permit private citizens to play with LSD. It is far too dangerous and destructive and it needs all the immediate controls and restrictions that can be provided."

Quail Chicks

Baby quail are hatching all over Marin County now. So far we have two groups, one of 10 chicks, the other 14.

Quail are born standing up, ready to run. They go through no helpless stage when they are nest-bound and must be fed by their parents. From the day of hatching, quail are on the move. Quail chicks are almost quicker than the eye, darting here and there, jumping up and down walls many times their tiny height.

Little balls of quicksilver movement, dividing, coalescing — ever obedient to the signals of their proud, cautious father.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Marin Voters Gave Politicians Few Surprises In The Booths

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

MOST OF THE election results were as predicted, except for a few twists.

The biggest surprise came from James Pockrus, Rohnert Park school teacher and accountant, who beat out Robert Mertle of San Rafael.

Pockrus' victory is all the more remarkable because he didn't really "run" for the Democratic nomination for Assembly. He scarcely "walked." No press releases, no advertising, no cocktail parties that we know of.

MERTLE ON THE other hand put considerable effort into his campaign. His big drawback was that he was virtually unknown and had a job just getting his name before the public.

The name of Pockrus had been before the public in 1964 when he lost heavily to Assemblyman William T. Bagley. Apparently, that name recognition had something to do with his win over Mertle this year.

Another factor could be the ballot designation, listing Pockrus as "teacher and accountant" as compared with Mertle's "businessman (plastics mfgr.)"

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke pulled the other surprise by winning the coroner's post without a runoff. Most observers predicted a runoff between him and William C. Bradley.

OTHERWISE, RESULTS ran true to predictions—Supervisor Bill Gnoss over his young challenger; John McInnis beating his two opponents combined; Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales over a surprisingly strong Leonard Bjorklund; and Supervisor Tom Storer over Phillip Drath in the Democratic nomination for Congress.

Peace candidate Drath's almost 35,000 votes to Storer's 42,000 is a creditable showing, considering the fact that Drath started as an unknown.

In a similar primary contest in 1964 for the Democratic nomination for Congress, George McCabe beat Merle Orchard by 54,000 to 27,000 votes. Nevertheless, McCabe was then easily outdistanced by Congressman Don Clausen in November.

If that is any indication, Storer appears headed for a rough time when he goes up against Clausen in November.

ASSEMBLYMAN Bagley, who campaigned strongly for George Christopher for Governor, promises "full support" for the entire Republican ticket, from Ronald Reagan on down. Bagley does, however, "reserve the right to disagree on specific issues and thus to voice my own opinions and the wishes of my constituents on those issues."

Chuck Michals, Marin County chairman for Christopher, came over to the Reagan headquarters as soon as Reagan's victory was assured and pledged support for the Republican nominee for governor.

Paul Haerle, Marin chairman for Reagan, and Michals appeared on the same platform in a spirit of cooperation. The Republican split will be far easier to mend this year than after the Barry-Rocky fight.

SOME OF THESE candidates who promised to take down all signs imediately after the primary had better hurry up and keep that promise. Otherwise, they're going to earn the wrath of many a voter.

Mel Warenback, who lost to McInnis, managed to retain his good humor. "I gave out 9,000 pencils, but I'm not going to demand the return of a single one," he joked.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Green Strips Are Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There has been much talk of green strips, planning, beauty, etc. in Marin County. Trees are beauty and beauty must be saved. The southern entrance to San Rafael, along the west side of 101 Highway, is the case in point. The west side of 101 Highway, from Lincoln Avenue to the Mission Street off-ramp, contains the NWPRR track, streets and homes.

The future expansion of Highway 101 to the west will cause another highway to be built alongside the present one and the relocation of the railroad tracks west of this new highway. To any observer who can visualize this change, it becomes apparent that numerous trees will be removed.

Why not leave the railroad tracks in or near their present location and design the new (southern) Highway 101 west of the railroad? This would leave a "green strip" and the railroad between the north and south sections of Highway 101 from Lincoln Avenue to Mission Avenue.

Let's hear what the state has in mind before we suddenly discover it's too late!

Cook's Article Bit Obscure

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If Mr. Stephen Cook's article in Reporter's Notebook on June 2, 1966 had listed a few more facts, whatever point he seeks to make might be less obscure.

In stating that I could stand some education in the area of my work on the San Anselmo City Council, he is doubtless correct. Perhaps some day he will give more particulars.

In implying that I avoided standard procedure, I can only observe that under state law, a city council has certain plenary powers, among them the right to hear and decide matters at its pleasure. If this were not so, where was the I-J when the last council raised Mr. Flautt's salary without notice to the public or an agenda.

In hinting that I feared "open study" on my resolution to establish an advisory council, Mr. Cook displays poor memory. At the meeting, when I first brought it up, I handed each councilman and Mr. Cook a carbon copy. Mr. Cook brought his copy to the I-J and you published it verbatim on the front page. Two weeks later I asked for and received a 4 to 0 vote on the resolution. Does this really sound as if I were trying to avoid "open study"? If it does, doubtless Mr. Cook will give the public the further benefit of his thinking.

Paraphrasing Mr. Cook's closing paragraph, may I say:

A matter which has been fairly reported without material omission is more apt to inspire public confidence.

Three Fallacies By Letter Writer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This is with regard to the letter by Mr. Kenneth J. Levy which appeared in your paper on June 4, 1966.

It would be difficult to discover a more absurd piece of tripe. To begin with Mr. Levy claims that more people's rights are being upheld by the State Supreme Court than were being recognized by Proposition 14. This is obviously a fallacy. Since the court's action grants rights only to government bureaucrats, the majority of the people are discriminated against rather than recognized.

Not content with one fallacy, Mr. Levy proceeds to suggest that the authority for the State Supreme Court's action is derived from the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution. I defy Mr. Levy or anyone else to derive logically and specifically from the 14th Amendment the right of any government to control the purchase and sale of private property. Mr. Levy of course carefully avoided logic and specifics in his letter . . .

Mr. Levy posts still a third fallacy. He implies that some fundamental freedom is being preserved by the State Supreme Court's action . . . To claim that freedom is preserved by the transference of rights from individuals to their governments is clearly a contradiction. It is only by exercising our rights, not by losing them, that we remain free . . .

The Constitution does not give to any branch of the government either explicitly or implicitly the right to control the sale and purchase of private property. It would seem logical to assume that this is one of those inalienable rights of man, that is to hold and dispose of property, e.g. to own things.

In this case, of course, Proposition 14 is not only constitutional but should be unnecessary. Mr. Levy refers to citizens being robbed of their civil rights. Upon due consideration it becomes abundantly clear just who is being robbed.

Crank Letter Writers Miserable

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding the unsigned crank mail I have received regarding my signed views of the Viet Nam War that I expressed in the I-J on May last week, 1966, I have this to say:

Reader Asks Help For Grand Canyon

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am writing to urge you to exert your best efforts to "Save the Grand Canyon" from the really unnecessary hydro-electric projects being planned.

I traveled down the Colorado just before Glen Canyon Dam was built and saw the majesty that is now covered by water. Going back again on a boat is a real tragedy. To build dams such as this when they are unnecessary for production of additional power or conservation of water is robbing the countless generations in the future from wonders and joys which we have been privileged to behold. This is not our right and we must prevent such selfish waste.

Power plants utilizing vast coal deposits in the Colorado River region can generate sufficient power for centuries to come. If this does prove insufficient, nuclear energy can be used. Why consume this God-given asset needlessly?

SAGE ADVICE to housewives from Arthur Treacher, the "butler" in countless movies and TV shows: "Tell a servant what's expected of her—then leave her alone. There's nothing more exasperating to help than to have someone breathing down their necks all the time."

Treacher (who is penning an autobiography, to be called "You Ring, Sir?") has a suggestion to authors at work: "Keep a large trash basket handy."

SAMUEL SPIEGEL, by virtue of such film masterpieces as "Bridge on the River Kwai" and "Lawrence of Arabia," is recognized as one of the great producers of Hollywood, but there was a day, not too many years ago, when he was scrambling for any sort of recognition whatever. In fact, in what must have been a moment of desperation, he once announced that instead of "Samuel Spiegel" he now proposed to call himself "S. P. Eagle." Darryl Zanuck, high muckymuck of Twentieth Century Fox, dissuaded him by signing a note to Spiegel, "Z. A. Nuck."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Senate Committee Hamstringing Johnson's Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON—It will be a bad day for the U.S. unless the Senate rescues the foreign aid program from being mauled and mutilated by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Chairman William Fulbright, Sen. Frank Church, Sen. Wayne Morse, and their colleagues are literally stifling the program by tying one noose after another around its neck—and they seem to be enjoying it.

AND WITH what motives? Is the majority of the Fulbright committee out to punish the administration because the President doesn't take its advice on Viet Nam? Is the motive dominated by pique?

I would not raise the issue of motive were the committee's actions explainable on any rational basis. For example:

Most of the Foreign Relations Committee have been exhorting the Johnson administration to pursue a more "flexible" foreign policy — toward dealing with Red China, toward negotiating with Gen. Charles De Gaulle, toward trading with Eastern Europe.

But when these same senators come to dealing with a matter over which they have direct responsibility—shaping the foreign aid authorization—they devote themselves to attaching the most arbitrary, inflexible, rigid amendments to a program which needs flexibility to match the diversity of conditions in which it operates.

THERE IS another aspect of the committee's actions which just doesn't make sense. Led by Senators Church and Fullbright, the committee voted 11 to 6 to reject the administration proposal for an authorization allowing five-year planning and voted to require a one-year authorization.

This doesn't make sense, because the committee is repudiating its own advice.

In 1961 the Senate Foreign Relations Committee urged multi-year authorization and stated that the "element of continuity is essential to all growth, including economic."

A year ago Senator Fullbright stated: "Congress should . . . place the (foreign aid) program under long-term authorizations. The case for doing so is both familiar and persuasive, and just about everybody involved in foreign aid agrees to it."

But suddenly Mr. Fullbright does not find his own argument persuasive and he and his colleagues vote to reject his own conclusion.

All of the amendments to the program which the committee is presently insisting upon have the same effect: To make U. S. aid policy inflexible, inefficient to administer, and hard to adapt to divergent conditions in different parts of the world.

BESIDES imposing one-year authorizations on a program that needs multi-year planning in Washington and in the aided countries, the committee proposes to limit to 10 the number of countries to receive development loans, cut technical aid to 40 countries, and other similar, arbitrary restrictions. It would raise the interest rate on loans, which would simply increase the funds needed.

Committee members hail AID administrator David Bell as the best man the program has ever had—and at the same time act to make it next to impossible for him to do his job efficiently.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

North Viet Bristles With Reds' Weapons

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—North Viet Nam is installing ground-to-air missiles and anti-aircraft guns several times as fast as the U. S. is destroying them.

THE ALARMING estimates of Hanoi's growing air defense capabilities warn that despite intensified U. S. air attacks there are now more than 300 Soviet SA-2 missile sites and 36,000 anti-aircraft guns in North Viet Nam.

In the past 18 months Navy and Air Force pilots have claimed destruction of approximately one-third the number of these missiles and anti-aircraft guns.

An estimated 260,000 North Vietnamese, or nearly the same number of U. S. troops in South Viet Nam, now man these bristling air defenses, including an extensive radar warning system.

Between 7,000 and 9,000 Russian, Red Chinese and Eastern European technicians are assisting the North Vietnamese. An undetermined number of Cubans trained by the Soviet in use of the SAM missiles have just arrived in Hanoi.

Low-level reconnaissance photographs taken in recent weeks reveal that as many as 300 or 400 anti-aircraft batteries and up to several dozen ground-to-air missiles ring major "military targets" in the Hanoi-Haiphong complex.

These greatly expanded Communist air defenses, which are costing the U.S. an average of one plane a day, are being extended into the northwest section of South Viet Nam that is under Viet Cong control.

TWO REGULAR North Viet Nam anti-aircraft battalions have been identified in this area, by two North Vietnamese officers captured in recent search-and-destroy operations in the First Corps sector.

The Reds' highly mobile guns, with their own portable radar, are described as the most modern anti-aircraft weapons produced by Russia and Czechoslovakia.

Shipped to Haiphong aboard Soviet bloc ships, the guns are airlifted in crates by large Russian helicopters to advance Communist bases in Laos. From Laos, the guns are hand carried across the border and assembled in South Viet Nam.

AT PRESENT, the Communists have no known ground-to-air missiles in South Viet Nam. A number of SAM sites are in operation in the southern part of North Viet Nam near the demilitarized zone.

Russian freighters from the Black Sea port of Odessa are passing through the Suez Canal with cargoes openly declared for Haiphong at the rate of slightly more than one a day.

U.S. air strikes against Red rail lines and highways, while slowing down deliveries from Haiphong, have not stopped the growing flood of shipments.

General Westmoreland, concerned about mounting U.S. air losses, is seeking White House approval to mine or bomb Haiphong harbor.

WITH THE MAJOR rail routes from China being cut daily by air strikes, General Westmoreland estimates that 80 per cent of North Viet Nam's military supplies are now coming through Haiphong, the Reds' largest port. The remainder are transported by truck from China or through the Soviet airlift.

A Defense Department report indicates U.S. aircraft losses in Viet Nam are running at the rate of more than $1 billion a year:

"The rapidly increasing number of U.S. air sorties is resulting in larger total losses. In 1964 we lost 38 fixed-wing aircraft and 24 helicopters in hostile action. In 1965, with both the very large increase in activitiy and attacks against North Viet Nam, we lost 275 fixed-wing aircraft and 76 helicopters. We anticipate that 1966 losses will be higher — ranging from 350 to 400 fixed-wing aircraft and 100 helicopters.

THE REPORT also states that the Air Force and Navy are dropping bombs "at the rate of $110 million a month."

Let Soviet Union Join NATO De Gaulle Can Be New Villain

WASHINGTON — Now that France is pulling out of NATO, there is room for another country to come in. Several nations have been proposed for membership but, for one reason or another, their applications have been rejected. For example, in the case of Spain, the members have vetoed Franco's application on the grounds that the Spanish still condone bull fighting, which is against everything NATO stands for.

THE MOST OBVIOUS candidate for membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union is strategically located, has a large standing army, which could cover Europe's northern and eastern flanks, and it has several ports that could easily be used for supply depots.

NATO's main role in the past has been to contain the Soviet Union. But if the Soviet Union was permitted to join NATO, this would become a minor role, and our financial and military commitment could be cut in half without endangering European security.

Another advantage of having the Soviet Union in NATO is that the Russians already have nuclear weapons, so we wouldn't have to supply them with any. This would solve the major problem that the United States has had in dealing with its North Atlantic allies.

Besides its geographic location and its ability to field hundreds of thousands of troops, the Soviet Union could also make a large contribution to NATO in the field of intelligence. The Western allies have been spending billions of dollars trying to find out what the Russians are up to. If they joined the NATO pact, we would have the right to ask them, and this would save us a tremendous amount of time and money.

SOME CRITICS argue that the Soviet Union already belongs to the Warsaw Pact made up of the Iron Curtain countries and it would be hard for the Soviets to withdraw from that pact to join ours.

But NATO has far more standing in the world than Warsaw, and it is believed the Soviets would not hesitate to jump over to our pact if somebody asked them.

Of course, if you took in the Soviet Union as a partner in NATO, you would have to change the strategy of the alliance. NATO would have to have a new military threat or it would disintergrate.

THAT NEW THREAT could be France, and NATO's new role could be to contain Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

It is believed that with the Soviet Union in NATO De Gaulle wouldn't dare try anything in Europe and he would be convinced that any adventure on his part could mean instant retaliation, not only from the West but also from the East.

De Gaulle is going to Russia soon, and one of the things he's expected to do is try to persuade the Soviets not to join NATO. But the Soviets are expected to turn a deaf ear to De Gaulle's pleas. The only promise De Gaulle can hope to extract from the Russians is that, if the Soviets join NATO, France can take its place in the Warsaw Pact.

Week Of Election, Raccoon, Pogo, Quail Whistle, Alaska Hitchhikers

It was the week of the election, the rain and the raccoon. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Borgwardt, inspectors at precincts in the Mill Valley Masonic Temple, noted that some Democrats complained that, while Republicans had voting booths with red, white and blue curtains, the Democrats had to have all white curtains. "There was nothing we could do," said Mrs. Evans.

IN SAUSALITO, there were complaints that the polling bags were "too heavy," that punch styluses broke when punched and that some little old ladies had to have stools to stand on in the booths because the voting mechanism is taller this year than last.

The natives in Bolinas and Mill Valley said "it never rains in June" and then it did.

The raccoon is a mother and, as all mothers, persistent and doting over her babies.

MRS. RACCOON was under the old oak barber shop of Bill Bowen's when it was knocked down as were her four kittens, sometimes called puppies. Jim Buzzard, loader operator, took two home to San Francisco for pets and gave two to other workers.

Mrs. Raccoon did not approve and cried all night. Dick Fern at the Mill Valley Laundromat fed her chicken and many persons observing the five-cent Davy Crockett cigar sign heard her cries.

Apparently thinking her babies had gone into Spirits Unlimited, on whose wall the sign was revealed, Mrs. Raccoon also entered Monday night.

IN THE MORNING, bottle man Dag found footprints on the counters and shelves, bottles rolled around and one bottle of brandy, which had fallen four feet to the floor, unbroken. Dag said, "We were lucky. Three years ago a Raccoon broke in and broke $60 in stores."

Ed Gross as a number of history-conscious citizens, said he was delighted to find Davey who had been hiding behind the wall over 60 years and added "I wish someone would preserve the darned thing."

Somewhere in the oaks and redwoods of Southern Marin Pogo, a black Indian mynah bird with a yellow bill is loose. Sarah Davis, who lives on Lee Street in Mill Valley, said that Pogo's cage came open and he flew out about a week ago. He escaped once before but was retrieved. Five years old, Pogo, is a good watch dog, lives with a parrot, chicken, turtle and five cats and two dogs and is best at reciting, "Hello Sweetheart," "Hi There," and a wolf whistle.

JESS LIPPITT with her girl friend hitch hiked from Fairbanks to Mill Valley with 11 rides to her parents consternation. Now called Juneau Jess, she was posted back to Alaska by air.

Al Matson of Belvedere reports that he had always laughed at the deer crossing sign on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley until the other day when he drove by and there, standing near the sign, was a deer. "I'm convinced," said Matson.

FRANK FINN came in the other day and said "brickbats to the persons who nipped off all the rose buds in our garden. If the parties had waited until they bloomed, my wife would have given them some roses."

Fire Capt. Hank Pierroz appeared in the office with a quail whistle made from a clothespin and some rubber bands, saying he was going quail hunting at Cool, Calif. And John Imperiale, former policeman, came by, while his wife used the voting machine, to say he was off to Idaho and Washington by trailer. He is a retired man with complete aplomb.

There may be a better life, but we don't know where.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Saddening Shock Puts Damper On Post-Election Happiness

FUSSELMAN

Another Wednesday with a saddening shock—Paul Leahy, our good friend, died suddenly before noon. I talked to him a minute or so after 9 Wednesday morning. he told me about being up all night, with a group of mutual friends, at John McInnis's headquarters, listening to the election returns—that they had just had breakfast together and that he was going to have a little sleep.

I urged him to stay home all day and have a good rest. When I returned to the office after lunch, there was a message that he was gone.

Paul was one of the most gentle, kindly men I have ever known. My wife and I talked with him for a while on the Tuesday before election. He told us of the group's determination to get John elected in the primary.

ELECTIONS are a terrible strain and I have often thought the tension was perhaps felt more by the friends who were helping than by the candidate.

Paul and his lovely wife and daughters were such a fine family to meet and be with. They were so nice. After the raw edges are somewhat softened, I know they will have many, many wonderful memories of this fine and good man of theirs. Our hearts are with them, in deep understanding.

THE ELECTION of John McInnis, that Paul and the others helped to win for him, will be bearing fruit, I am sure, in a few months. The majority members of the present board of supervisors have gotten the county into a badly confused mess.

I have just been looking at the proposed budget for 1966-67 and am quite impressed with the opening statement of the administrator, in his message of presentation. Brace yourself. Here it is: "Something is Wrong Somewhere." Then further on " . . . property taxation is reaching a prohibitive level, which is not only destructive of individuals, but also (of) many public purposes." (I quoted the above last week and am repeating it because of what immediately followed) "The State Legislature must be pressed and hard-pressed until it adopts legislation . . . to reduce reliance on property taxes."

THE SOMETHING that is wrong somewhere is the seeming inability to realize that "taxes" must be paid by the people no matter what form is used. This administrator and the majority of the board members have been swinging along with the attitude of "Pa is rich and Ma don't care." Now it has caught up with them.

The man from Ross Valley is making expansive statements that the tax rate should be "frozen." What a laugh! Assessments are up about 10 per cent county-wide and in his own district tremendously more than that. So he blandly disregards the obvious, that taxpayers especially, in his district will be faced with a much higher bill by just using the "frozen rate" method.

UNDER "Equal Time for Expression of a Taxpayer's View," the administrator in an hilarious mood, had printed in his budget message excerpts from " A recent letter from a Marin County Taxpayer," as follows:—"Nuts to you and your budget . . . does it ever occur to you that things that continue to go up have to come down sometime? . . . Are you trying to put all Marin County residents on the 'Great Society' relief program? Because people are moving out because of our ridiculous taxes, this I know . . . Why don't you try to be different and hold the line? . . . As I said in a recent letter to you, when a thing is not so important, cut down or in other words economize. I am sure you must have enough brains to do that."

Well! You say it. Go right ahead. Most of us will agree. Next week we will look for "Something (which) is Wrong Somewhere."

10 YEARS AGO

A Marin landmark, the old Murray home in Larkspur, on the west side of Magnolia Avenue, between Francis Avenue and Estelle Avenue, was sold to make way for development of a group of stores.

Hungarian-born conductor Sandor Salgo was named as the new conductor of the Marin Symphony Guild orchestra, succeeding the late Gastone Usigli.

Long-Unused Old Olema Hotel Ordered Razed

The Olema Hotel, long empty at the intersection of Shoreline Highway and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Olema, must be torn down by June 17.

J. Richard Dawe of the Marin County building department said he issued the order for demolition after County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said the building is a fire hazard.

Mrs. Ruth Ruoff of San Rafael, the owner, was given a similar deadline in March of 1965, but the order was lifted on condition that the building be boarded up and there be no occupancy.

Chief Bloom found evidence that transients are staying from time to time in the upstairs room.

Dawe said failure to comply with the order will mean the county can have the building removed on court order.

Transit Survey Report Slated

The Marin County Transit District board Wednesday will hear a first, interim report from consultants Cloverdale and Colpitts on Marin's rapid transit study.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

Also on the agenda are consideration of the district budget, review of ferry commute service, and the effect of the current bus strike on commute traffic.

College Gift Slated

College of Marin's 1966 graduating class will present the college with a portable television set for use in the College Center as its class present, Jess Fogleson, class president, announced yesterday. The set will be in Conference Room B of the center, he said.

PHOOEY ON WEDDING PICTURES!

Giving vent to his feelings at a London society wedding, five-year-old James Brooke Mackay pursed his lips and blew a big razzberry when he was asked to pose for traditional wedding party pictures. It was bad enough to be a page boy and wear a white silk suit with pink bow, but when the photographer told him to "take the little girl's hand, little boy," it was just too much. Three year old Tracey Sutton, dutifully clung to Jimmy's hand, however. The bridegroom was Jimmy's cousin. (AP Wirephoto)

Tea Set For Hamilton Debutantes

By MOLLY MARIN

The Officers' Wives Club will honor the 24 Hamilton Air Force Base debutantes at a tea from 2 to 4 o'clock on Wednesday at the Officers Club at Hamilton. The club lounge will be decorated in red and white, and follow the Spanish theme of the club's architecture for the tea. Mesdames Carroll W. McColpin, honorary OWC president; Nicholas McCommon, club president, and Horace McWhirter, debutante adviser, will be on the receiving line with the debs.

Mrs. Robert Fishel is tea chairman, assisted by Mesdames Huston Cockey, Clarence Cooper, Thomas Jones, Bruce Mitchell and Walter Spellman.

MRS. FRANK WILLIAMS has returned to her home in Sausalito from a five-week tour of Europe, which she says she enjoyed so much she cannot select a favorite spot. The countries she visited were England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Austria, Italy, Monaco and France.

ADD ANOTHER DEB to the list for Marin. Alison Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Morgan Noble of Belvedere, will be presented at the Newport Harbor Beach debutante ball on Dec. 28. The Nobles have recently moved to Belvedere from the Southland. Alison wanted to complete her studies at Newport Harbor High School, and has been staying with family friends, Dr. and Mrs. Robert G. Andrews. After graduation she will join the family in Belvedere for the summer. The debutante plans to attend the University of Nevada this fall.

Alison's sister, Lynn, who bowed at the Newport Harbor Ball four years ago, has just returned from a year at the Institute of European Studies in Vienna. She will return to the University of Southern California in September. The Nobles, who live on the Belvedere Lagoon, also have three sons.

DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM EASTMAN of San Rafael returned on Saturday from an eight-day tour of Alaska. After driving to Vancouver, they boarded the Prince George to Skagway and from there toured many towns on the way to Carcross in the Yukon. Mrs. Eastman reported the scenery to be quite beautiful with many people moving into that vicinity.

A 'ROUND THE CLOCK radio appeal for donations of painting and graphic art works for Belvedere Guild No. 5 of Sunny Hills is being voiced by guild members Mesdames Peter Curtis, James L. Moore, Raymond Delrich and John Barnes. Amateur or professional artists with work to donate to the Guild for sale at the Grape Festival are asked to contact Mrs. Curtis in Belvedere.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL RICHARDS were honored by their children at a dinner party Berkeley June 1 celebrating at the Claremont Hotel in their 25th wedding anniversary. Family members included Gary, a student at the University of California; Mr. and Mrs. Tom (Colene) Mace of San Rafael and their twins, Roy and Joyce, who will be graduating from Novato High School this month. The Richards have lived in Novato for seven years.

SATURDAY NIGHT will find San Francisco Yacht Club salts dressed as castaways for the annual shipwreck dinner dance at the club in Belvedere. The William Fishers, Jules Bernheims, Robert Boats and SFYC Commodore and Mrs. Patrick Kirrane are among those planning to attend. The Daniel Draths will be coming from Palo Alto for the evening.

MR. AND MRS. ROY WOOD of Bel-Marin have just returned from a brief trip visiting family and friends in Burbank. They flew down in their own two-place plane enjoying about a three and one-half hour panoramic flight each way.

MRS. ROY BROWN has returned to her home in San Rafael after attending a college reunion and 125th anniversary of Iowa Wesleyan at Mt. Pleasant.

PACKING FOR WHAT they expect will be a tour of Europe and residence for more than a year in Yugoslavia are the Leslie Hoods of Mill Valley, who will be leaving before the end of this month. They will drive around Europe before settling down near Dubrovnik on the Dalmation coast, where Mr. Hood expects to do some writing. He is a public information officer with the Bay Area

The Greater The Fuss The Longer The Marriage Lasts?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The longer the bride's wedding dress, the longer the marriage lasts?

Could be, say the bridal attire manufacturers who now are turning to surveys to find what role they play in the longevity of the tie that binds.

The reasons for their research are not so much romantic as realistic, because of sales. Or, as Edward M. Langer, president of the Bridal, Bridesmaids' Apparel Assn. puts it, "we're supposed to be flourishing in bridal apparel sales because of the baby boom 20 years ago, but none of us is setting the world on fire."

THE "MARRIAGE business" counting the clothes and all other sales connected with a trip to the altar, adds up to about $5 billion per year.

Langer estimated that sales of bridal gowns, however, represented $125 to $150 million yearly of the total. The figure has been pretty static for the last several years, said James A. Cerbone, association executive secretary.

The association, representing some 30 leading bridal gown manufacturers, worries about this percentage the same way a mother of the bride worries whether it'll be organza or peau de soie. Then, it decided to find why its bridal apparel sales weren't up front in the wedding march.

LANGER SAID that one sampling in the New England area led to the reasons for larger questioning. The sampling asked women who were divorced whether their had been a formal or "quickie" marriage. Eight of 10 divorcees said theirs had not been the long engagement culminated with the traditional church, synagogue or home ceremony.

Langer said that the initial questioning had been sufficiently convincing to initiate hiring the Alfred Politz Researchers whose findings are to be compiled by fall and then analyzed by sociologists.

Langer said he believes there are sound reasons for the study.

"A QUICKIE marriage often involves the very young . . . the teen-agers . . . . who on short acquaintance rush into what should be a lifetime partnership.

"Ten minutes before a justice of peace . . . 10 minutes to get a divorce.

"I believe, and so do many who study this problem, that the greater the fuss, really, the greater the event becomes and will be so remembered through life," he said.

Purple For Fall

Look for all shades of purple, from pale mauve to deep as that worn by royalty, to be strong in the fall and winter ready-to-wear.

St. Hilary's P-TG Elects New Officers

New president of St. Hilary's Parent Teacher Group is Mrs. Leighton Hatch of Strawberry.

Lynn Hatch has been a member of the organization for the past year, and has lived in Marin County for five years. She is the wife of Leighton Hatch, an attorney who practices in San Francisco.

The purpose of the P-TG, she says, is "To coordinate the spiritual and educational forces of the home and school." Films and speakers which further these aims will be scheduled for the year.

The Hatches have three children, Katherine, 7, Francis, 6, and Maurice, 1.

Lynn belongs to the Family Service League, where she has been publicity chairman, and has been on the executive board of the Strawberry Point P-TA.

Her hobbies, when time allows, are gardening, sewing and reading.

Others on the incoming board are Mrs. Lloyd G. Bentley, vice president; Mrs. Armand T. Allegra, secretary; and Mrs. Lloyd A. Gardner, treasurer.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Hen Piqued At Henpecked Title Given By Hubby's Rooster Pals

DEAR HELEN:

Please settle an argument for us. Does it mean a husband is "henpecked" if he asks his wife if she cares, when he is invited to go someplace by the men at his office?

I say it is being inconsiderate if he doesn't ask her. After all, she might have other plans. Mine used to, but the guys at work told him he was henpecked, so he quit and just goes. What do you say?—THE OLD HEN

DEAR HEN:

I'm with you. A considerate husband clears an invitation with his wife; a henpecked husband doesn't dare.

Those office roosters either have piqued hens at home, or else they're all crow, not much "go."—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Your poem on the dread of housework is great and I'm sure it's the sentiment of every housewife around.

Things got pretty hectic at our house for that very reason—I just couldn't get going.

So I sat down, surveyed the jobs at hand, and wrote everything that had to be done on a piece of paper. There I figured out about how long each job would take, and put the time next to the job. Gave myself five or ten extra minutes to insure thoroughness.

This scheduling took about five minutes, but the time saved was worth it. I wasn't running helter skelter trying to get everything done—and when it's down on paper, waiting for you to cross it off, half the battle is won.—ORGANIZED

DEAR ORGANIZED:

Welcome to the club. I do this on everything from ironing to hitting the weekly deadline, and when I end the day with all cross-outs I feel like Samson in a Beatle cut.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

To "Girl-Watcher": Please have pity. I would like very much to wear my skirts at knee length or longer, but you and so many people don't seem to be aware of the absolute tyranny of the fashion world.

When the moguls dictate short skirts, the dress manufacturers stop making anything else. When the word goes out that Milady shall cram her toes into medieval torture devices, try and find a shoe that fits a human foot.

Recently one kindly designer declared that he saves people like me from Limbo by offering dresses for the mature woman that would not bankrupt her husband: With prices at $165.00.

Even patterns for homemade clothes slavishly follow the trends. I have spent a weary lifetime being called an oddball for trying to dress to please myself and my husband. You know something, Helen. After a while it gets to you.—YOUTHFUL GRANDMA, AGE 40.

DEAR HELEN:

We have friends—in their 40's—who have lived in the same house for several years. They have never been legally married, and want to be. But all the marriage licenses come out in the paper. Even if they go to some other town, friends are liable to see. Could they go to Mexico?—MRS. X.

DEAR MRS. X:

They may go to their own minister who will arrange for an unpublicized wedding. Almost any clergyman can tell you how commonlaw marriages are legalized without newspaper notice.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Each year a Marin high school girl is selected by her school administration to receive a substantial Delta Delta Delta scholarship to attend college. A bridge group which meets once a month also contributes its proceeds to this fund. This year Tri Delta Alumnae are in charge of the Panhellenic fashion show given each summer at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

The new president is married to Floyd H. White Jr., who grew up in San Rafael, and is now associated with Fireman's Fund American Insurance Co. Trigere Bows To Leggy Lass With Slim Waist, More Money

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The leggy lass with a little middle and a lot of money is in this year as far as designer Pauline Trigere is concerned.

So are turtle pins, hairy dresses, rhinestone bibs and bonnets, men's chevron tie materials, built-in lingerie, fur shirt dresses and fur formal gowns, and boots as supple and fitted as gloves.

"Suits are out this year," Miss Trigere said as waiters passed cocktails and sandwiches and television cameras ground away during her fall collection opening Wednesday. "Women want a freeness around the waist."

THE MODELS WHO stepped forward later wore slim coats, jaunty jackets or swingy capes over dresses with fitted or belted middles. Chins disappeared under hulking collars, huge ascots, and yards of scarves. But no bulk went to waist.

Other figure faults would have been indiscernible under Trigere's fashion formula. The flat front and back of skirts flared or pleated at the sides.

In tweeds and knits the manikins slipped into plain leather boots that reached higher than their above-the-knee hemlines.

Sometimes silk neck scarves matched the linings of collarless coats. Other times the inside story of cape-like coats was furry warmth.

A WARDROBE OF fitted dresses, long and short, some with swirling cape coats, and made of Russian broadtail were among latest Trigere status symbol offerings. The really one-up-manship dinner gown was of broadtail, bordered, cuffed and collared in Russian sable.

Modesty bids are what the once French designer calls those collars of twinkling rhinestones and which models tucked into their plunging necklines, or wore with bare-shouldered dresses.

Library Unit Elects New President

T. Howell Breece, chairman of the College of Marin English department, who says he enjoys reading more than any other leisure time activity, is the new president of the Friends of the Sausalito library.

A member of the organization three years, he has served previously as a vice president. He is mostly interested in obtaining a new library for Sausalito, but the organization has several other objectives. These are to further closer relations between the library and Sausalito citizens and promote knowledge of its functions, services, resources and needs; to promote public lectures and meetings of a cultural nature, book reviews and discussions and to encourage gifts of rare books and other materials the library cannot include in its budget; to provide more adequate books and entertainment for children; to encourage use of the library by individuals and groups engaged in research and seeking reference assistance.

Mr. Breece received bachelor and master of arts degrees in English from the University of California. Before coming to the College of Marin he taught two years at the University of California and at Napa Junior College.

He is currently the chairman of the Marin County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Other new officers are Mrs. Elisa Stinson, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Scarborough (retiring president), second vice president; Mrs. Richard L. Whitaker, secretary; and George Goffman, treasurer.

The future bridegroom, who is employed at his father's ranch in Petaluma, was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin.

The wedding is planned for early summer.

Maringate School Names Principal

Principal of the new nursery school, Maringate, in Marin City will be Mrs. Grace Williams of Tiburon, announces Mrs. Beverly Bastian, executive director of the Tamalpais Nursery School corporation which sponsors the non-profit school to open in September in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Williams has been on the staffs of the Belvedere and Tiburon Nursery Schools for five years and will teach at the Tamalpais Nursery School in Mill Valley during the summer. C. and has done graduate work in psychology and child development at the universities of Temple, Columbia, and California.

U.S. Commission Defines Terms In Hosiery Ads

(UPI) — The terms "irregulars," and "seconds" used in hosiery advertisements do not mean the same thing, say Pennsylvania State University extension clothing specialists.

The Federal Trade Commission has ruled that "irregular" means hosiery that fails to meet the standards for first quality and contains only minor imperfections, such as irregularities in length, foot sizes, color or knit.

"Seconds" do not meet either first quality or irregular standards because they contain actual damage, even runs.

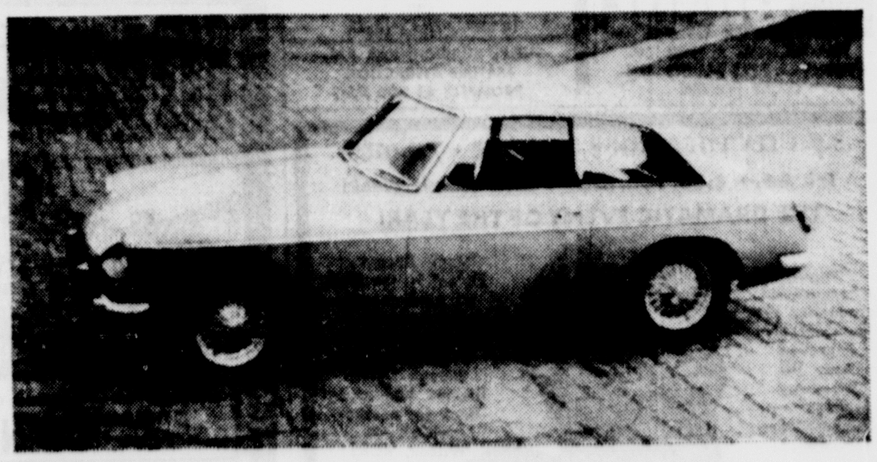
The new MGB/GT looks and handles like a $6,000 machine.
At $4,000 it would be a real buy.

At $3,195 it's practically licensed stealing.



MG You don't have to own a hunk of Fort Knox to afford a GT that will turn heads wherever you go. Not any more. Not when you can have the MGB/GT with all its trappings for even less than you'd pay for a domestic fat-cat medium-size.

But make no mistake. This British-bred GT is more than just a showpiece. Its dual-carb 1798 cc. engine can deliver smooth power to keep you cruising all day at 70 (plus enough reserve to top 105 if need be).

With competition-proved suspension, rack-and-pinion steering, and self-adjusting disc brakes to help you handle any situation as if you were part professional driver.

And, to top it off, the new MGB/GT acts as though "luxury" and "standard" were synonymous. Standard bits include leather-upholstered bucket seats (plus occasional rear seats). Full instrumentation including tachometer. Padded, no-glare dash with map reading light. Electric windshield wipers. Windshield washer. 60 spoke wire wheels. Enough carpeted luggage space for a year's supply of champagne for you and your favorite lady. And soundproofing so you can practically hear her heart flutter.

So, if you want to turn heads in general (or one in particular), the new MGB/GT is for you. Get MG magic in this exciting new shape at your nearest MG/Austin-Healey dealer.

And don't tell any of your friends it cost you just $3,195.* They'll never guess.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly has written another of her chronicles of early-day Marin County for tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine. This time her subject is the San Francisco Theological Seminary of San Anselmo, a nationally and internationally respected religious educational institution that held its 95th commencement exercises recently. You'll learn about the man who founded the school—and those who carried on after him.

Marin County is the home of many fine craftsmen and artisans. One of the most creative is a young man born in Luxembourg who was once a custom shoemaker in that country and whose customers included the grand duchess of that tiny state. Today Norbert Krier's skilled hands are turning out a different kind of product in the garage and hobby room of his Lucas Valley home. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown has written that story.

Time Is Favored Over More Pay

Division and department chairmen at College of Marin reported last night they would rather have more time than more money.

College president Stephen E. Epler recommended that the additional pay for division chairmen be raised from $600 to $1,200 a year and that for department heads from $200 to $400 a year.

However, William Howe, a representative of the Academic Senate said, "We're in favor of released time, rather than increased pay."

This would mean the instructor would be released from some of his class load so he could have more time to devote to his duties as chairman.

Board members postponed action on the pay raise recommendation until their next meeting, June 23.

The board granted raises for college and summer school at hourly rates. The new schedule raises pay for those teaching non-credit courses from $6.50-$7.25 to $6.75-$8 an hour, those teaching credit classes, from $7.50-$9. to $7.50-$10 an hour. Additional cost to the district was estimated at $19,500.

Trustees Will Study Expanded Board Idea

As the College of Marin expands, so may the Marin Junior College District Board, from five to seven members.

Trustees last night took under study a report by College President Stephen E. Epler on advantages and disadvantages of a seven-member board.

The change could be placed before the voters at the next election of trustees next spring, Epler reported.

First, he said, the board would have to petition the Marin County Committee on School District Organization for "either the establishment or rearrangement of trustee areas and/or the increase in the number of members of the governing board."

A larger board would give proportionately more representation to the public and would provide greater stability in regard to turnover, Epler contended. It would permit the use of three-man committees to review and study items and provide "more and wider ranges of opinion," he said.

A disadvantage under the committee system would be that not all board members would be in on all detailed discussion, he commented.

Trustees are now elected at large. If the board were expanded, he suggested they could be elected by trustee areas but by voters of the entire district, or by trustee areas by voters of the areas represented.

Board President Elizabeth M. Deedy said she hoped the board would be expanded to seven.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Hired, effective Sept. 1, Carol Duggan, a senior staff nurse at the University of California Medical Center, as a nursing instructor at $8,280 a year; Robin C. Jackson of Mill Valley, drama and speech instructor at $9,060, Victor Petreshene, high school teacher in the Mount Diablo School District, health education instructor at $9,340; Joseph M. Reyes, former college teacher now earning his doctor's degree at University of Pacific, chemistry instructor at $10,640, and Laura E. Willson of Eureka, business and economics instructor at $8,670. Joan McClure was hired as attendance clerk at the evening college, effective June 20, at $380 a month.
2. Appointed faculty member Ralph C. Conrad as chairman of the newly formed mathematics department for the 1966-67 school year.
3. Authorized a change in the primary voltage distribution system for the Fine Arts Building which would require a new transformer, estimated to cost $5,836.
4. Rejected three bids, ranging from $30,000 to $41,000, on remodeling the old cafeteria into a communications center, because of irregularities in one bid, and authorized that the job be readvertised.
5. Approval filing an application for $5,000 in federal funds for library materials.
6. Received annual reports from division chairmen.
7. Awarded contracts for science, audio-visual and library equipment to Central Scientific Co., Santa Clara, $220; Foreman's Industrial Photo, San Mateo, $137; Laboratory Equipment Co., San Francisco, $1,785; Matheson Scientific Co, Hayward, $2,100; Spectrex Corp., Palo Alto, $1,385, and Ward's of California, Monterey, $375.

THEODORE C. WELLMAN
President of foundation

T. C. Wellman Gets College Trustee Job

Theodore C. Wellman of 1 Vista Drive, Kentfield, retired Standard Oil Co. executive, was appointed to the Marin Junior College District Board last night.

Wellman was selected from a field of 11 applicants to fill the seat left vacant when Kent O. Seymour of Mill Valley resigned last month. He will complete Seymour's unexpired term, which ends in the spring of 1969.

Board members interviewed all candidates at a closed session Wednesday night, and then invited them to speak at last night's meeting.

SPEAK BRIEFLY

Nine applicants spoke briefly at the meeting. The board left the room for a closed session to make its choice. About 15 minutes later it reconvened in open session and appointed Wellman. He was then sworn into office.

Wellman is president of the College of Marin Foundation, which finances scholarships and loans for students, and a member of the citizens advisory committee to the college. He also was chairman of the college's tax override committee in 1962.

He is a former president of the Kentfield Civic League and the Marin Council of Boy Scouts.

Wellman retired June 1 as assistant vice president for marketing for Standard Oil Co.'s western operations. He commented last night that he would have time to work at the job of being a trustee.

SWORN IN

After Wellman was sworn in as trustee, Board President Elizabeth M. Deedy reminded the other applicants that three seats on the board will be open at next spring's election.

"I hope everyone files and runs," she said.

Applicants for the seat, besides Wellman, were:

Francis J. Carr, of Sausalito; Mrs. Elizabeth L. Emerson, of Mill Valley; Alan D. Ewen, of Belvedere; Henry G. Hayes, of Kent Woodlands; Jiri Hermann, of Kent Woodlands; J. G. Ingels, of Sleepy Hollow; John R. Kunst, of San Rafael; Dr. I. D. Rotkin, of San Rafael; Edward K. Wachsman, of San Rafael, and Jack Younger, of Mill Valley.

Herta Rothschild Art

Paintings by Novato artist Herta Rothschild will be on exhibit at the Mezzanine Gallery, 867 Market Street, San Francisco, through July.

Pay Parking System Hit By Students

The Marin Junior College District Board got a belated rumble from the students last night about the pay parking system scheduled to start next fall.

Luisa Sofaer, a representative of Associated Students, told the board the students took a poll on the toll gate parking proposal.

Of 734 ballots cast, 635 were opposed, she said.

Board President Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy said the toll gate system has been under discussion for months. "There has been plenty of opportunity for the students to be heard," she said.

Planning Director James W. Duke said the executive student council had supported the plan last year, and he was shocked to hear of opposition now. The plan was adopted last month.

Ross Given $15,000 To Buy Land For Park

Ross Mayor Frederick S. Allen last night disclosed to his fellow councilmen that "a very generous donor" had given the town the $15,000 with which it will buy 25 acres of park land at Phoenix Lake from Marin Municipal Water District.

Water district directors voted 4-1 Wednesday night to approve the sale.

Allen said the donor had asked to remain anonymous, at least until the deal is closed. This is expected in a few days.

The council appeared interested in a proposal by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones for a new sign ordinance to take the place of one passed in 1908.

Jones said enforcement of the old ordinance had been aided by a Marin County Real Estate Board ban, adopted in 1938, against "for sale" signs in front of houses. The board has dropped its ban at the request of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards.

Jones asked Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott to draw up a new ordinance permitting signs with family names on them, but banning any real estate, contractors or advertising signs on lawns.

The Ross Town Council Also:

1. Adopted an ordinance banning parking on parts of Fernhill Avenue, Walters Road and Laurel Grove Avenue.
2. Introduced the long discussed nuisance ordinance.
3. Again extended for a month the variance of Marin Art and Garden Center to use its antique shop, and indefinitely postponed hearing on a rezoning when Elliott advised the hearing had been improperly advertised.
4. Denied the request of Fanny Becker of 72 Shady Lane for a variance to continue using a non-conforming rental unit.
5. Received applications of Clearview Cable Systems, Televue Systems and Cable Television of Marin for permits to operate in the town. They were given to Elliott for study.
6. Hired accountants Dalton, Graupner and Barber to do the town's annual audit, with the fee to be negotiated.
7. Renewed the agreement with the Ross School District to share costs of maintenance of the town common.

Herman Melville's classic novel "Moby Dick" has been shown in at least three film adaptations, the first in 1926 under the title "The Sea Beast" and the later versions in 1930 and 1956 under the original title.

New Trial Slated For Dr. Sheppard

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard will be retried on a second-degree murder charge in the 1954 bludgeon-slaying of his first wife, Marilyn, Prosecutor John T. Corrigan said today.

Sheppard already has served nine years in prison on a second-degree murder conviction by a Cuyahoga County Common Pleas jury Dec. 21, 1954. He has been free on $10,000 bond since July 16, 1964, while appealing on grounds he did not receive a fair trial.

Fire Aide Clarifies Home Alarm Sales Try

Kenneth Mazza, fire marshal for the San Rafael Fire Department, said today the fire department is not sponsoring any program for the installation of fire protection devices in private homes.

He said the fire department has heard that San Rafael area residents have been receiving phone calls requesting appointments to show a "safety film" on home fire alarms, and that the callers have indicated they have the backing of the fire department.

Mosquito Board Taps Reserves To Hold Taxes

Dipping slightly into its reserve fund, the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District Board last night adopted a 1967 budget of $113,912.71, with no increase in the tax rate of 2.5 cents per $100.

The district has a reserve fund of more than $57,000, of which the board will take about $4,000 to meet the budget. The 1967 budget exceeds this year's by $4,707.96.

The board directed district manager G. Paul Jones to get cost figures on annexation of Petaluma to the district and present them at the next meeting. Ignazio Vella, chairman of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, urged annexation of the Sonoma Valley as well, but the reaction of the board was generally negative.

Two new members of the board attended their first meeting: Robert D. Dickson of Ross and Elmo De Martini of Tiburon. Dickson was appointed to fill the term of the late James D. Russell, while De Martini replaces James Reynolds, who completed his term on the board.

New Teacher Group

The Marin County Substitute Teachers Assn. will meet next Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the county school office in Corte Madera to ratify a constitution for the association and to elect officers.

Church Council Defends Project

STOCKTON (AP) — The California-Nevada conference of Methodist Churches has endorsed the work of the migrant ministry and refused to discontinue its financial support for it.

The ministry has been working with farm workers in the San Joaquin Valley. The conference voted 470-18 with 18 abstensions for a resolution supporting "literacy programs, credit unions, self-help housing programs and assistance to workers bargaining for better annual wages and working conditions."

Several churches from the valley objected to what they called church sponsored assistance to strikers and farm labor organizers. The conference, however, refused to approve their motion that would have cut off funds for the migrant ministry program.

Marin City Assault Pleading Postponed

The case of James Hawkins, 19, of San Francisco, charged with assault with a deadly weapon on a Marin City youth Feb. 22, was postponed yesterday to June 20 in Marin Municipal Court.

Hawkins is charged with shooting Eugene Johnson, 21, of 270 Drake Avenue. Johnson recovered from his wounds. Hawkins was scheduled to enter a plea yesterday, but Judge Leonard A. Thomas postponed the matter at the request of his attorney.

Radio Panel Tells Hospital Volunteer Need

The role of volunteers at Marin ward in Napa State Hospital was discussed by four speakers yesterday on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

Guests of moderator Kitty Oppenheimer were Dr. Robert Spratt, superintendent of the hospital; Dr. Robert Ott, Marin County psychiatrist; Mrs. Glenn Gassaway of Fairfax, a volunteer at the hospital, and an anonymous former patient there, referred to on the program as "Mrs. X."

The discussion was to enlighten Marin residents of the Marin Voluntary Advisory Coordinating Council, which has recently been established, and create interest in its program. Mrs. Sutton Christen is chairman of the council, which works in conjunction with the Marin Assn. for Mental Health, Marin Community Mental Health Services, Red Cross, and other organizations with an interest in the welfare of the mentally ill.

General feeling of the speakers was that residents could be most helpful in providing services that the regular trained staff are often unable to render because of the time element involved.

The discussion was followed by a question and answer session.

Ott stressed that the program is not duplicating the work of the Red Cross "Gray Ladies," who also do work of this nature.

"The volunteers relate to the patients as friends," said Mrs. Gassaway. "Just to be there is sometimes helpful to the patient."

Mrs. Gassaway, along with "Mrs. X," the anonymous former patient, further emphasized that a wide range of skills are needed, many of which residents of Marin County would be able to render to patients at the Marin ward.

The need for volunteers was summed up by Spratt. He said lack of funds and staff are a paramount reason, and that "not enough trained people are going into this area."

Sonoma Resident Gets Jail On Driving Case

Bradford Dean Chapman, 24, of Sonoma, was sentenced in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday to 10 days in county jail for drunken driving.

San Rafael police arrested him Sunday on Red Hill Avenue, just across the San Anselmo line, after following him from downtown San Rafael.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Serious Drama Due A Better Run Now

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—There is optimism in some significant television quarters that two factors may soon help end the longtime famine of serious drama on the three major networks. The factors are:

The unexpected reasonable rating garnered recently by CBS-TV's brilliant version of "Death of a Salesman."

And more importantly, the fact that the now-desperate shortage of new movies for television soon may provide an opening for good dramas to be slipped in among the two-hour features to be made for viedo to fill the motion picture gap.

The reasoning behind this latter point—which sponsors must be sold on—is that the audiences that watch movies are not tied to the running-character situation series elsewhere on the networks, and are the best bet to stick around and watch.

There is talk that if the sponsors can be made to believe this, a sort of formula might be worked out so that there would be, say, one drama a month along wihh three movies (some of which may be the made-for-viedo two-hour motion pictures). The guessing is that something along these lines migt be worked out by next spring or the 1967-68 season.

It is always difficult to take the networks seriously about any new leaf they promise to turn over. The constant viewer gets the feeling that they are mostly icy opportunists who milk a piece of prestige to death when it comes along to try to make the public forget the awful stuff they put on day to day. in short, "Death of a Salesman" has allowed for a lot of puff-type promises of quality.

However, the weekly show business newspaper "Variety" has come up with some sound practical points about why the once-a-month drama notion just might shape up:

"The way theatrical film prices are mounting, the economics of studio drama and features on TV are just about at the point of equalizing. If a drama costs $400,000 for a single run and can carry the rating momentum (and advertising lineup) of a feature showcase whose celluloid fare is $500,000 a shot, it becomes almost a bargain...

"There are, of course, all those 'if's centering on sponsor disposition and the rating returns on future TV legiters. But necessity is working very much in drama's favor, for the two-hour studio shows could cut any network's need for feature product by 25 per cent, and therein lies the real hope for a revival of what is termed the 'golden age.'"

There are, of course, other reasons for some optimism about future video drama specials—the foremost of which is this fall's new series, "ABC Stage 67," hich is already a reality and has scheduled some original plays that promise genuine interest, successful or not.

In addition, in the wake of the "Death of a Salesman" coup, some of the plays being mentioned as possible network specials include "The Crucible" by Arthur Miller, "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams and "Othello" (with Sidney Poitier and, perhaps, George C. Scott). David Susskind, who brought "Death of a Salesman" to television, is the name heardmost as the chief producer in the numerous projects being mentioned. It is reported he has been approached for a slate of shows.

NBC-TV's "Hallmark Hall of Fame" naturally will be back with its annual group of dramas. And signs of yet another promising direction arise in ABC-TV's plans for a fall, opaminute version of the musical "Brigadoon" with Robert Goulet, Sally Ann Howes and Peter Falk (in a non-singing role).

Other reasons should appeal to the networks for the return of drama:

A solid slate of dramatic specials would strongly offset yet another attractive feature of educational and pay-TV. The networks have already given pay-TV a bad time in grabbing off so many top sports events.

The acquisition of promising dramatic properties by the networks — especially original works—sometimes allows for possible pyramiding of financial profit if the opus is adapted into various forms: Movie, stage,, book, records, etc.

The intelligent audience might be at least partially wooed back to network television.

Five per cent of West Germany's labor force of 22 million persons are foreigners, mainly from the Mediterranean area.

San Rafael Students' Achievements Honored

Leaders in scholarship and school activities at San Rafael High School were honored yesterday at an awards assembly on the athletic field.

Student body officers for next fall were presented, and Roger Widmer, newly elected student president, was sworn into office by Jon Owen, outgoing president.

There was an unscheduled ovation when Principal Alfred N. Thomson cited several teachers who are retiring or leaving the school, but did not mention himself. He is to transfer to Santa Venetia High School next term.

"How about you, Mr. Thomson?" shouted a student.

This set off a burst of cheers and hand-clapping which the principal had difficulty stopping.

Jacalyn Hartman received the "outstanding student" award.

Widmer received the Harvard book award. Sue McKinnon was announced as delegate to Girls' State. Bank of America trophies were presented to Jeff Allen, Patsy Bolt, Jerry Brendli, and Sue Burns.

Scholarships were presented as follows:

Past President Club scholarships, Richard Bode and Vickie Cossette; Rotary Club scholarship, Bernard Cahlander; San Rafael Teachers Assn. scholarship, Aleen Voorheis; San Rafael High School Parent-Teacher Assn. scholarship, Patsy Bolt; Marin County PTA scholarship, Bernard Cahlander; Ra Ravas scholarship, Tish Gallivan, Sharon Dixon, Margery Costello; Les Couts scholarship, Jerry Brendli.

Also, Victor Jones Memorial scholarship, Joe Cunningham; John Quinlivan Memorial scholarship, Jeff Allen; Vernon Kleimo Memorial scholarships, Mary T. Smith and Norbert Dahl.

Engineering award went to Barry Lame; Bausch and Lomb medal, Lynne McFarlane; Marin County Science Fair awards, Lynne McFarlane and Joe Mahood; chemistry award, Stuart Sipkin; mathematics contest award, Robert Ryan; American Homemaker award, Sharon Dixon.

Susan Burns was honored as most outstanding senior in home economics; Cindy Diego, most outstanding student in foods and nutrition.

The Independent-Journal "outstanding staffer" award was presented to Nedra Ruiz, and the Chandler Warp and Woof scholarship to Connie Wagner.

Music and athletic awards, previously announced, were also presented.

Hayward Firm Low Bidder On Bret Harte Sewer Line

B and R. Pipeline Co. of Hayward submitted a low bid of $211,555 yesterday for construction of a sewer system in the Bret Harte area of San Rafael.

There were three other bids on the job: Soiland Co. of Novato, $214,020; Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera, $237,939, and L. J. Krzich of Cupertino, $456,800, reported Virginia Congdon, recording secretary of the San Raafel Sanitation District.

Construction is scheduled to be financed by an assessment district along both sides of Bret Harte Road from Highway 101 northwest to Twain Harte Lane. The contract is to be awarded when the sanitation board holds a public hearing on the project at 8 p.m. June 23 at San Rafael City Hall.

Also under discussion at the hearing will be the spreading of the assessments, said Mrs. Congdon.

Robinson Serious

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — Actor Edward G. Robinson, 72, remained in serious condition today at Mt. Sinai Hospital, where he underwent abdominal surgery after an automobile accident. However, a hospital spokesman said his progress was good.

Garden Fans To Hear Marine Biologist

Dr. Victor L. Loosanoff will be guest speaker at the Redwood Shade Garden Club at 8 p.m. today at Whitaker Hall, St. Stephen's Parish, Belvedere.

Loosanoff, professor of Marine Biology at Pacific Marine Station, University of Pacific, will gave an illustrated lecture on "Gardens of the Sea."

SPECIAL RUN TO CORTE MADERA—This Pullman coach, built in 1914 for Northwestern Pacific Railroad, was received at Tiburon yesterday by members of the Corte Madera 50th Anniversary Committee. Along with an 1890 coach from the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, it was to be rolled to Village Square in Corte Madera today for display during the weekend celebration. The coaches are owned by the Pacific Coast chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society and were barged from Oakland to San Francisco and from there to Tiburon.

Focus On New Town Hall

A 36-year-old building which has just received a $78,125 facelift will be center of attention as Corte Madera opens the second day of its 50th anniversary celebration at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow. (See photo on page 1.)

The building is the Town Hall, originally built by Corte Madera's volunteer fire department to house its fire trucks in 1930 and sold to the town in 1952.

Until the new Public Safety Building was completed in November, the Town Hall housed the fire, police and public works departments, plus council chambers. All other town offices were in the aging and cramped annex next door.

Tomorrow the Town Council will dedicate the new building with ceremonies which include reenactment of the signing of the town's charter 50 years ago.

Ceremonies will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the combined school band of the Larkspur School District playing music from the 1916 period when the town was incorporated.

Girl Scout Laurie McClintock of 20 Buena Vista Avenue, Corte Madera, will lead the Pledge of Allegiance. Rev. James J. Healy of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Larkspur will give the invocation.

The council will accept and dedicate the building, then ceremonies will move inside where 15 boy and girl scouts will reenact the signing of incorporation papers. Rev. Henry I. Ford of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera will give the benediction.

A tour of the building will be followed by a reception in the Public Safety Building, where historical pictures and documents will be on display.

The building's face-lift was designed by architects Crawford and Banning of San Rafael. Joseph E. Redmond of San Rafael was contractor.

The Town Hall remodeling completes a Corte Madera building program which began with passage of a $200,000 general obligation bond by voters in April, 1964.

Those funds went for construction of the Public Safety Building on Tamalpais Drive, the public safety substation on Paradise Drive and the Town Hall remodeling.

San Anselmo Chiefs Ask Pay Hike For City's Firemen, Police Force

Police and fire chief of San Anselmo asked the city council for 7.5 per cent pay increase for their employees at a budget session of the council last night.

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt offered no recommendation on either request.

Mayor John M. Reichmuth said at the start of the meeting that no decision would be made on any budget item at the meeting.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani also asked for another civilian clerk-typist, and for a radar unit and a compact car in which to use the unit. Flautt recommended that both these requests be denied. Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro said he did not feel the radar unit was warranted, since the cost to the city would be about $11,000.

Fire Chief Frank Sousa asked for three more firemen, but Flautt recommended against the request. Sousa also asked for more safety equipment for his volunteer firemen, raising a question of whether a new state law which requires firefighters to have this equipment applies to volunteers. Flautt was asked to get an opinion on this from the city attorney.

The fire chief asked, too, for transistor radios for use in alerting volunteers, noting that "people have been complaining about the warning horn."

Eight spokesmen for the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce took 45 minutes at the meeting to give a detailed report on the chamber, which included a brief history of chambers of commerce in the United States, and a review of the functions, purposes, and activities of chambers in general and the San Anselmo chamber in particular.

The chamber has asked for $3,500 on the 1967 city budget, and Flautt has recommended the same amount.

The San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress reviewed a list of recommendations it presented to the council June 24. At request of chairman James F. Reed, the council set a meeting with the committee for June 21 at 8 p.m. to discuss the non-budget items.

James McDonald, the committee's downtown panel chairman, and Tom Peacock, speaking for the San Anselmo Homeowners Assn., both asked the council to start development of Parking Lot A in downtown San Anselmo.

Flautt told the council that until two condemnation suits, which could cost the city $100,000, are settled, the city cannot commit money on the parking lot.

San Domenico Seniors Get Recognition

Twelve Marin County seniors at San Domenico School received special recognition awards in prize day ceremonies at the school.

Susan Bertolli and Susan Marie Jones of San Rafael, Carolyn Cox and Marta Osterloh of Ross, Melissa Boussy of Mill Valley and Kathleen Regalia of Terra Linda graduated with honor.

Christine Bellingall of Belvedere, Claire Imbert of Mill Valley, Elizabeth McCabe of Greenbrae, Katherine McCall of San Rafael and Judith Owens of Ross received awards for excellence in particular subjects. Cornelia Sias received a $500 March of Dimes Health Careers Award scholarship.

Carolyn Cox and Mellissa received several special awards.

Mural To Be Attraction Of Anniversary

Sixty-eight square feet of historical mural by painter Ken Potter of Corte Madera will highlight a weekend arts-and-crafts show commemorating that city's 50th anniversary at the Recreation Center on Tamalpais Avenue.

The exhibition will be open to the public, starting tonight from 7:30 to 9 p.m. The hours tomorrow are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and it will be open from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Other Marin artists whose work will be represented at the show are landscape painter William Grant Sherry of Corte Madera; jeweler Bob Storm of Greenbrae; potter Eric Norstad of Corte Madera; spinners Myrtis Copestick and Joan Abelson of Mill Valley, and weaver Myra Falch of Corte Madera.

Potter's mural depicts in a map of the area portraits of pioneers, symbols of early Corte Madera industry, trade and transportation, Indians and a profile of Mount Tamalpais. It was executed in acrylic polyvinyl paint.

All work in the show will be on sale.

Supervisors Prepare For Budget Hearings

Eight days of public hearing on Marin County's proposed $25.9 million budget for fiscal 1967 will get under way before the county board of supervisors Monday.

The budget sessions will continue through June 22, skipping Tuesday and June 22, when regular sessions of the board will be held.

One major change was requested yesterday by Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who will be away next Friday afternoon attending a meeting of the North Coast Counties section of the County Supervisors Assn. They asked that discussion of the promotion and development budget and the sheriff's department budgets be scheduled at some other time.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said that may necessitate night sessions.

Further change was threatened by the board's decision to put off discussion of salary requests. At one time a Sunday session was proposed, but Supervisor Thomas T. Storer protested.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the board that the state law requires completion of budget hearings within 10 days. Public testimony on the budget, including salaries, cannot be received after June 22, Maloney said. The board however, can make decisions on the budget up to Aug. 31, he said.

Supervisors finally put over the salary matter until June 23.

Yesterday's hearing centered mostly on philosophical questions on salaries and never got down to specific changes in job classifications.

Supervisors said information supplied by Bruce was not adequate on which to base decisions.

Auto Collision Causes Bruises

Marie Rogers Bazell, 42, of 504 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for chest bruises suffered in an accident at Second Street and the southbound entrance to Highway 101 in San Rafael.

Mrs. Bazell's car collided at 12:20 p.m. with one driven by Joan Carol Warne, 40, of 26 Madera Boulevard, Corta Madera. Mrs. Bazell was cited by San Rafael police for running a red light.

Marinwood Fire Budget Gets Trimmed

The Marinwood Fire Commission last night pared $10,000 to $11,000 from its budget recommendation for fiscal 1967.

Commission Chairman Donald A. Duerr said deletions included $6,000 from capital outlay, the first of five proposed increment payments for a new pumper. Instead the commission will recommend $2,000 as the first of three payments for a second-hand pumper.

Also eliminated was a fourth fully paid fireman, who would have reduced hours of the present crew. The department's three men now put in an 84-hour week.

Duerr said the commission wants to find out if federal funds are available to add to part-time employment of college students under the War on Poverty program.

The commission made no reduction in salary increase requests, Duerr said.

The commission earlier recommended a budget of $45,500, but directors of the Marinwood Community Services District sent it back, asking for reductions.

Marinites Missing On Overdue Fishing Boat

A Coast Guard search was under way today for a fishing when the Gloria Maris was with two San Rafael men aboard, and which was involved in a strange Coast Guard mixup.

Aboard the missing 36-foot boat "Guard" are Art Hansen, 32, of 555 Canal Street, and Jerry Jones, 20,of 1893 Lincoln Avenue.

First calls from the Guard, reporting engine trouble, were received by the Coast Guard about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, at the same time another fishing boat, the "Gloria Maris," was calling for help.

Coast Guardsmen did not realize until yesterday morning, boat which was 24 hours overdue found, that there were two boats rather than one in trouble, a spokesman said.

The Gloria Maris was found at 10:15 a.m. yesterday with all four persons aboard safe. Then the Coast Guard received a call at 10:30 a.m. that the Guard was overdue, and learned from talking to the persons aboard the Gloria Maris that they had not sent all the calls the Coast Guard received Wednesday night.

The Coast Guard search from Bodega Bay to Pacifica yesterday for the Guard, and was searching from the Golden Gate Bridge to Pigeon Point today.

Las Gallinas Sewer Work Nearly Done

Directors of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District last night learned that most of Gallinas Village has at last been connected to the sanitary district system.

Secretary Helen Foulkes reported three-fourths of the village area was hooked into the Las Gallinas system on Tuesday. She said directors agreed last night to accept maintenance of the new system July 1, provided all legal documents can be prepared by then.

The Sunny Oaks section of the village is still on the old system and will not be hooked up until completion of a new line. Bids on that work, including removal of old lines and facilities, were called for June 27. The job is estimated at $12,000, Mrs. Foulkes said.

Connection of the village, originally set for last October, was delayed due to difficulties in laying a force main across Village Creek.

Directors last night agreed to credit all customers in the area with a half-year sewer charge because of the delay.

Bids will also be opened June 27 on the addition of a third pump at the Terra Linda pumping station, estimated at $6,500.

Conservation Board Finds It Needs Little Tax Cash

The Marin County Soil Conservation District should have no difficulty getting the appropriation it is asking from the county for fiscal 1967: $97.80.

Directors yesterday approved a $1,220 budget for the year, but found they will have such a large surplus left over from the fiscal year just ending that the $97.80 request is all they need to meet it.

The district budgeted $1,300 for this year, but abandoned plans to purchase equipment and make other captial expenditures. Too, explained recording secretary Matt H. Klemmer, directors went to almost no out-of-county conferences and used little of their own expense allowances.

Klemmer said directors decided against slashing the budget because they might go to a few more conferences next year.

District directors agreed to send a representative to the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, which has decided to look into problems of urban development in prime agricultural lands. He may be named at the Aug. 12 meeting.

They also passed a resolution supporing the Soula Jule Ranch in its application to the state Water Rights Board to build a 1,000 acre-foot dam on the old Berry Ranch at Sausal Creek. Directors agreed the dam fits with a master plan for control of sediment in Tomales Bay which they adopted last year.

There will be no July meeting of the board.

Woman Trapped In Wrecked Car

A San Francisco couple escaped serious injury when their carf crashed into a guard rail and light pole on Highway 101 near the Corte Madera overpass at 11 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Margaret A. Davis, 38, had to wait for the wrecked car to be pried open before she could be taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment. She and her husband, Dale L. Davis, 41, the driver, were treated for scalp and arm cuts.

Officer D. R. McDonel of the California Highway Patrol said Davis was northbound and reported he dozed at the wheel.

Grad Rites Set At Parish School

Fifth eighth grade students at St. Anselm's School in San Anselmo will receive diplomas during commencement ceremonies Sunday at 3 p.m. in St. Anselm's Church.

A graduation mass and breakfast will be given for the graduating class at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the church and parish hall. Class President Robert Turrini will speak during the breakfast.

Presiding at graduation exercises will be Rt. Rev. John McGarr, pastor of St. Anselm's. Rev. Thomas Riley, assistant pastor, will give the sermon.

Mississippi Shotgun Blast Heard Far And Wide

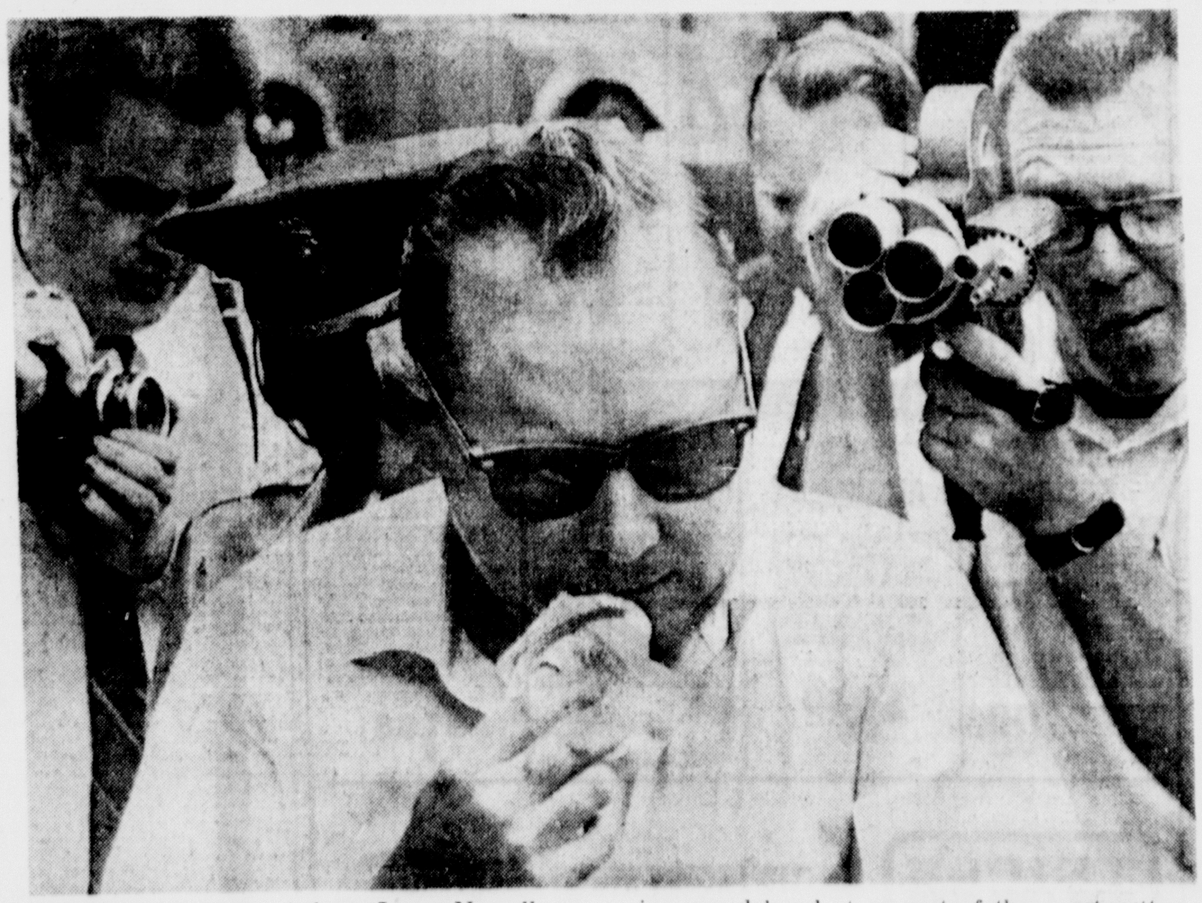
MEREDITH HAS RELAPSE—James Meredith, wounded by a shotgun sniper Monday while on an integration march through Mississippi, collapsed during a news conference in William F. Bowld Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., Wednesday. After treatment, he went home to further recuperate, before resuming his walk of courage. (AP Wirephoto)

COMPLAINS OF ILLNESS — Meredith put his hand to his forehead and complained of not feeling well just before his collapse during the Memphis hospital news conference Wednesday. His head had been shaved during treatment for the shotgun wounds; dark spots on his scalp were from the pellets. Meredith had been making the march to recall his part in "Ole Miss" campus integration four years ago, which sparked bloody campus riots. He said he wanted to show Mississippi Negroes that they should no longer be afraid to walk as free men. (AP Wirephoto)

COMEDIAN IS UNDERSTUDY—Chicago comedian and civil rights leader Dick Gregory told the press Tuesday he would make the march in Mississippi that was interrupted by the shotgun blast at Meredith. (AP Wirephoto)

NEVER GAVE UP—Mrs. James Meredith, 28, told newsmen in the lobby of her New York apartment house Tuesday, that she was afraid her husband's wound might have been fatal as rumored Monday—but she "never gave up." She said she would stay in New York rather than march with Meredith. (AP Wirephoto)

'BAT MAN' STEALS SHOW—Typical young rural residents of Hernando, Miss., upstaged comedian Gregory when the Chicago rights leader began his walk through Mississippi Wednesday, starting from the spot where Meredith was gunned down on Monday. Dr. Martin Luther King and other integration groups' leaders also marched to support Meredith. (UPI Telephoto)



SUSPECT IN JAIL—Aubrey James Norvell, an unemployed hardware contractor, leaves the courtroom in Jernando, Miss. He was formally arraigned Tuesday on charges of shooting Meredith, then held in lieu of $25,000 bail. His hearing was delayed at request of the county attorney. Meanwhile, U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas B. Katzenbach said his office was watching to see how the case was handled by local authorities. (UPI Telephoto)

Use Of Hotel Tax Argued At Lunch

There was a good deal of theory but not much agreement expressed by Marin County supervisors yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the recently formed Marin County Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber, formed at urging of the supervisors, wanted the board to back requests for aid to chambers and promotional efforts in the promotion and development budget soon to be taken up in budget hearings.

"We hope you will act favorably on budget demands," Eugent A. Ostatti, county chamber president, told supervisors after the lunch at Lin Fa Garden restaurant in Northgate Shopping Center.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said the recently adopted hotel-motel room tax of 4 per cent is expected to bring $35,000 to $40,000 next fiscal year from unincorporated areas, and could support the entire promotional and development budget if all cities in the county had similar ordinances and turned the proceeds over to a special fund.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker did not agree that all proceeds from the tax should necessarily go toward promotion and development. He suggested some might be used to reduce the property tax burden.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said that he thought a charge to be born by visitors should be used in promoting visitors.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer urged chambers of commerce to look into his suggestion for a transportation center in East San Rafael that could include an airport, heliport and hovercraft terminals and even provide for shipping.

James L. Bigelow of the Marin Visitor's Bureau said his group was reluctant to join a county chamber unless it could be shown that the effort to attract visitors would be improved.

Kettenhofen suggested the visitor's bureau might try for closer coordination with the Redwood Empire Assn. which is making the same effort in a larger scale. Behr suggested that someone should "make sure that Redwood Empire Assn. money is properly spent."

Bear Attempts To Kidnap Child

LA JARA, Colo. (AP) — A bear described as weighing about 400 pounds snatched 4-year-old Jeffrey Shawcroft from his sleeping bag in the southwest Colorado mountains and tried to carry him away.

The bear, frightened off by shouts of the boy's brother, Robert, 18, was the object of a search by hunters.

Jeffrey suffered head and shoulder wounds requiring 22 stitches.

Jeffrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shawcroft, was with his family Tuesday on their annual cattle drive.

Redwood High Librarian Explains Stand

Mildred Mateer, librarian at Redwood High School since it opened in 1958, resigned Monday night because she believed district policy does not allow the school librarian to be a part of the teaching team.

An article in the Independent-Journal Tuesday incorrectly quoted her as protesting a policy which makes the librarian too much a part of the teaching team.

In a letter to the Tamalpais High School District board, Mrs. Mateer said the library should be a teaching center, with librarian and teacher planning together for introduction of new materials to a class, then teaching as a team when the class is brought to the library.

She said her resignation was not a form of protest, but she hopes to do something more purposeful, more in line with her philosophy of the job of the school librarian.

Sausalito To Repeat Display Of Fireworks

Sausalito will have a fireworks display again this year on July 4, on the shoreline between Sausalito Yacht Club and Spinnaker restaurant.

There may be a band concert, too, at the "old fashioned type" Independence Day celebration, reported Helen Kerr, director of Sausalito Artists and Merchants, one of the sponsoring organizations.

Motorcycle Outlet Sought

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill Monday will consider the use permit asked for a motorcycle sales and service shop at 336 Shoreline Highway near Mill Valley.

The administrator's meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Civic Center. The motorcycle shop, proposed by David L. Jolly, will be discussed at 9:30 a.m.

At 10:30 a.m., Cordill will hear the application for a use permit by Calvin Hoopper, who wants to station his catering truck at Brighton Avenue and Bolinas-Olema Road in Bolinas.

At 11 a.m. Cordill will hear the request of Larry H. Marks Jr. for a bicycle rental facility on Shoreline Highway near Bear Valley Road in Olema, serving visitors to Point Reyes National Seashore.

At 11:30 a.m. the use permit asked by Frank M. Auliffe for a motel on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Cintura Avenue in Lagunitas will be heard.

Satellite Aloft To Report Rays

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (UPI)—A 170-pound Air Force satellite was blasted into orbit early today to test radiation dangers to be faced by American men in space.

The satellite rode into space atop a four-stage solid-fuel Scout rocket.

It carried eight spherical containers of a special plastic material formed into what was described as "mockups of portions of the human torso."

Sensors within the material were to radio back the nature and intensities of space radiation encountered during an orbit ranging in altitude from 348 to 2,550 nautical miles.

Space agency officials said the launch was flawless and the instrument package attained its planned elliptical orbit.

Last Yanks Ousted In British Golf

By TOM REEDY

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — The last two Americans and a Scot now living in Michigan were eliminated today in the fifth round of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Henri de Lamaze, 11-time winner of the French amateur, defeated Richard Anthony of Andalusia, Ala., 1 up on the 18th green when the American's drive landed in a brook.

Bobby Cole, an 18-year-old South African protege of Gary Player, downed Charles McCallum, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., real estate man, 1 up, by sinking a 12-footer on the 18th hole for a half.

Gordon Cosh, a Scottish Walker Cup player, beat Hunter McDonald, a 25-year-old Scot living in Southfield, Mich., 1 up in another tight match that ended on the 18th green.

The eight survivors played in another 18-hole round in the afternoon to cut the field to the semifinals.

The semifinals and final will be played tomorrow.

The 20-year-old Anthony, a student at the University of Alabama, and the 49-year-old Frenchman, were even after 15 holes. On the 16th Anthony drove into a bunker and it took him two strokes to get out. He conceded the hole.

Anthony squared the match again on the 17th by sinking a seven-footer for a par four. Lamaze missed a five-footer that would have ended the match.

On the 18th the American's drive landed in a brook and he took a six to the Frenchman's five.

McDonald had trouble with his long game and was two down at the 12th. He got one back at the 13th with a seven-footer, and squared the match at the long 14th with a birdie four.

The battle ding-donged to the 18th tee, all square.

On the 18th Cosh hit a great second shot over the brook to the collar of the green. McDonald was inches short of the water and in an extremely bad lie. But he got the ball up on to the green, 20 feet from the hole.

Cosh cooly two-putted for his four, and McDonald missed his long one.

Ronnie Shade, another Scottish Walker Cupper, advanced with a 4 and 3 triumph over 17-year-old Andrew Phillips of England, the conqueror of Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia Thursday.

SERIES IS SOLD OUT '... AND WE THANK YOU'

Reserved and box seats for all three Giant-Dodger games this weekend at Candlestick Park have been sold out, the San Francisco Giants announced today.

There are still general admission tickets left, however.

The Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers meet in the first game of the three-game series tonight, 8 o'clock. Tomorrow's game and the final one Sunday start at 1 p.m.

Giants Win, But Oh, Oh...Here Comes Koufax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers send out baseball's top pitcher, Sandy Koufax, tonight—trying to bag the National League lead from the San Francisco Giants.

A Dodgers victory would give them the top spot by four persentage points — .611 to .607. If they lose, they fall two games back of the Giants, who've held the crest for 35 days.

The world champion invaders slipped to one game back yesterday because of a rainout at Chicago.

At Houston, where rain never falls on the artificial grass under the dome, the Giants struggled past the Astros 3-1 in 11 innings.

This victory, combined with the weather and losses by Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, allowed San Francisco to gain on all three challengers as the Phils and Pirates fell to 2½ to the rear.

Kougax, baseball's top pitcher with a 10-1 record probably will draw lefty Joe Gibbon, 2-2, who's split two decisions against the Dodgers, or Bob Bolin, 4-4 on the year.

Koufax has beaten the Giants and Gibbon once, but would have suffered a loss when the Giants knocked him out of the box May 5. However, the Giants blew a seven-run lead, taking Koufax off the hook, although the Dodgers were beaten 9-8 in 10 innings.

So far, the Giants have licked the Dodgers four out of six.

Pitchers Ron Herbel and Bill Henry held the Astros to a single run, with Henry getting the victory.

Jim Davenport's 11th inning double drove in the winning runs. Willie McCovey opened the frame with a single and Jim Hart sacrificed him to second. After Tom Haller drew an intentional pass from loser Jim Owens, Davenport doubled to left.

Henry, who entered in the 10th, put the Astros down in order in the 11th for his first decision. It snapped a three-game Giant losing streak.

Herbel singled in the Giants' tying run in the fifth with his first base hit of the season. The Astrodome was the scene last year of Herbel's first major league base hit after 55 at bats.

Starter Larry Dierking retired the first 10 batters he faced. But Hart singled in the fifth, moved to second on a walk and scored on Herbel's hit. The pitcher left in the tenth for a pinch-hitter.

The Astros scored in the first on singles by Sonny Jackson, Jim Gentile and Rusty Staub.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Tam's Comeback Kid Appears Headed For A Bright Future

ONE OF THE better comeback stories in recent Marin Athletic League history was written this spring by a Tamalpais High School senior named Ron Gilliam.

A promising pitcher in his freshman season in which he won a varsity letter, Ron's prep career was all but ruined by a back ailment that sidelined him all of his sophomore and junior years.

EVEN EARLY this year Coach Al Ahlsten didn't know what to expect when Gilliam turned out for the squad. In his first MAL start Ron showed the effects of a two-year layoff, losing 8-1 while giving up 8 hits and 7 walks. "Ugh," granted one Tam Indian. "Oh my achin' back," cried another.

But that setback to Terra Linda, way back on April Fool's Day, was Gilliam's last personal taste of defeat as he embarked on the comeback trail that was to see him record seven consecutive victories both as a starter and reliever in pitching Tam to the league co-championship. Accompanying his 7-1 record, best in the league, was a glittering 1.70 earned run average and 67 strikeouts against 31 losses.

WHAT NEXT for Master Gilliam? Well, last Sunday he earned a uniform with the Giant Rookies, a non-pro team sponsored by the title-bound San Francisco Giants, so his summer recreation seems assured.

Next fall some lucky college will get this scholar-athlete "prize" whose 3.81 grade point average even surpasses his baseball credentials. At last report Ron hadn't yet chosen a college, but Cal and Santa Clara appear at the top of his list.

AMONG GILLIAM'S many admirers are James Hanretty of the Tam faculty who writes: "Earlier in my career I coached baseball at Clovis High School in Fresno. I recall one year we lost two to Fresno High 2-1 and 1-0. A couple of kids named Dick Ellsworth and Jim Maloney did the pitching for Fresno . . . My thoughts are Gilliam shows me as much as these two fellows did as seniors in high school. Then, when you realize he had to sit out the last two seasons with a back problem, he becomes all the more remarkable."

I'm sure we'll be hearing a great deal more from Tam's "Comeback Kid."

Mrs. Ostaggi Is Trophy Winner

Mrs. Eugene Ostaggi won the Grace McLean trophy yesterday in the match vs. par tournament at the Meadow Club. Winners were:

Class A—Mrs. Ostaggi, plus 2; Mrs. Edward Vest, plus 1; Mrs. John Lesoine and Mrs. Ed Christie, minus 1.

Class B—Mrs. John Allen Jr. and Mrs. L. Garrett, plus 1; Mrs. N. L. Ackley and Mrs. J. M. Kinnon, minus 2.

Class C — Mrs. F. Anderson, even; Mrs. G. Vayssie, minus 1; Mrs. Niels Schultz and Mrs. Ed Bunting, minus 2.

Hogan In S.F.; '55 Upset Is Recalled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Only Ben Hogan knew what he was thinking yesterday when he stepped onto the Olympic Club lakeside course.

The last time he was here was 1955 when he appeared to have won the National Open Golf Championship in the regulation 72 holes.

He sat in the clubhouse after posting 287, seven over par. There was no name golfers left to challenge him.

Newsmen gathered around the taciturn Texan and asked how it felt to be the only man to win the National Open a fifth time. An excited television commentator, once a prominent golfer himself, stood on the course and told a national audience that Bantam Ben had captured No. 5.

But still on course was an unknown from Iowa — Jack Fleck. He had four holes to go. A marshal told him he had to come in two under to tie. He birdied 15, parred 16 and 17 and then sank a side-hill six-foot putt for the tying birdie on 18.

On Sunday, 10,000 watched the 18-hole playoff. Hogan went into the last hole one stroke behind. He drove to the left in heavy, eight-inch rough and took a 6.

Fleck made it in 4 and won by three strokes. He has won only two major tournaments since.

The rough is not as high this year for the Open that starts next Thursday, and Hogan, who never did win No. 5, is not the dominant player he was then.

He's here on a special invitation so he wouldn't have to qualify at age 53. Fleck, now 44, not given the same courtesy, qualified and also will be here.

Hogan kept his thoughts about 1955 to himself during his practice round yesterday. Someone reported his score as 71 although he played two or three practice balls on every hole.

Olympic Club pro Kyle Burton predicts four 71s should win.

"I played just awful," Hogan said. "It's a good player's course. The one who is playing the best golf will win. I don't know if there's a course that doesn't fit anyone who's playing well at the time."

Later Jack Nicklaus came rumbling down the course, like Hogan, playing two or three balls. He carded a 76. Nicklaus, only 7-years-old when Hogan won his first open in 1948, is favored to score lower than Bantam Ben once the money-shooting begins.

AAU In Blast At Track Federation

By JERRY LISKA

TERRA HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — The U.S. Track and Field Federation howled sabotage and opened its fourth national championship today in defiance of a last minute threat of Amateur Athletic Union reprisal against athletes participating in what the AAU called "an unsanctioned meet."

The AAU threw a bombshell last night into the two-day USTFF meet, which lured more than 300 athletes, including America's top miler Jim Ryun, to Indiana State University's asphalt track.

It was a dictum by AAu President Clifford Buck that unless the NCAA-backed Federation applied for an AAU sanction all athletes competing here would be ineligible for the National AAU Championships in New York June 25-26.

The AAU meet will determine the selection of the U.S. team to compete against the Russians in Los Angeles July 23-24.

Chick Werner, the Federation's executive director, declared that Buck's action was "an obvious attempt to sabotage the Federation meet by the manner in which it was suddenly initiated."

And Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said in Kansas City "that the statement attributed to Mr. Buck and the AAU is incredible and the timing makes its motivation most suspect."

Federation leaders contended that the AAU got its facts twisted in interpretation of the guideline set by a government five-man panel appointed by Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

"Buck's action violated the basic agreement in the AAU-NCAA amnesty that there would be no penalizing of athletes during negotiations," said Werner.

Byers declared, "it is a clear and unmistakable violation of the most important basic intent of the senate moratorium which is to permit complete freedom of competition and to set aside all penalties against competing athletes. The Federation championship is for USTFF members only and requires no AAU sanction. It never has had one during the four previous years of its existence on the comparable weekend each year."

Federation coaches took a somewhat attitude toward the latest outbreak in the lengthy battle between the AAU and the NCAA which seems to be immune to federal peace-making.

Kansas Coach Bob Timmons said Ryun, his 19-year-old star freshman, "came here to run and he will run."

Youth Baseball League Opens In San Rafael

Three games will open the San Rafael Youth Baseball League tomorrow at Albert Park. The league is sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department.

Lots Of Trout Being Stocked; Salmon Fishing Is Paying Off

STEVENS

Could be you've decided to stay fairly close to the house this weekend, but could be also that you may take a short foray after some recently planted catchable-size trout in nearby waters.

If so, here is the list of catchable-size trout scheduled for restocking in the following waters, by counties: LAKE—Upper Kelsey Creek, Anderson Creek. MARIN—Bon Tempe Reservoir, and Lagunitas Lake. MENDOCINO—East Branch of the Russian River, Cleone Lake and Hammerhorn Lake. MONTEREY—Lower Arroyo Seco, Upper Arroyo Seco, and Big Sur River. SAN FRANCISCO—North Lake Merced. SAN LUIS OBISPO—Lopez Creek, Chorro Reservoir and Lower Nacimiento River. SANTA CRUZ — Fall Creek and Corralitos Creek, Loch Lomond, San Lorenzo River, San Vicente Creek. SAN MATEO—Pescadero Creek. SONOMA—Like Ralphine.

IF IT HAPPENS that you have caught and eaten so many trout that your taste buds are clamoring for a salmon steak, a fillet of striped bass, or a serving of sturgeon, catfish, or other panfish, go aboard a party boat early tomorrow morning and catch a limit of salmon. Lots of silvers and an occasional king are running in many sections of the north coast, especially in the area a few miles east of the Farallones, between the Light Ship and the Farallones.

According to Betty Urbais of the Boat and Tackle mart and harbor at Sausalito, the weather, water and fishing have been nearly perfect the past few days. One boat with 10 trollers aboard had 15 salmon in the box by 10 a.m. Betty also relayed the news of fast fishing for assorted rockfish. "Eighteen anglers caught 360 rockfish and 22 lings to 22 pounds," reported Betty.

ALSO REPORTED by her was good news of striper fishing. Shore fishing at Strawberry Point near Richardson Bay has been yielding some dandy catches of bass on the incoming tide. "Fish are running from about 5 pounds to 15 pounds."

Other reports indicate a good supply of fresh-run bass. I understand that the half-day boat "Paul G." has been taking a heavy toll of stripers drift-fishing with live bait. The "Paul G." worked the area near the Brothers, and was reported as filling out limits before noon on Tuesday.

A RECENT RELEASE from the Resources Agency of California announced a meeting of minds to figure out the best method of including a program to integrate the teaching of conservation in the public schools from the kindergarten through 12th grade.

It's high time the urgent need of the conservation of our natural resources is included in the public school curriculum.

CRUISERS AND skiffs have been having a gala time hooking and playing some hefty stripers out of the Richmond harbor. The hot spot has been around and between the Brothers.

Anglers using worms and clams at Clear Lake have been cleaning up. Small, medium and lunker size catfish seem to prefer such a diet. One unverified rumor has it that black bass are becoming active at Berryessa, mostly close to shore.

Water Ski Tourney Slated This Weekend

The fourth annual Novato Water Ski Tournament will be held tomorrow and sunday at the Mira Monte Marina on San Antonio Creek north of Novato.

It is sponsored by the Masters Ski School and the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

In the past the event was held in connection with Western Weekend, but is being staged one week earlier this year to avoid a conflict.

Events will start at 8:30 a.m. and run until 5 p.m. each day.

More than 100 participants, ranging from 7 to 50 years of age will compete in eight age divisions and three events each day.

Trophies will be given to the winners in the first day's competition at a banquet at The Lodge following tomorrow's competition. The winners on Sunday will also be given trophies.

A water ski show will be given at 12:30 p.m. each day. It will be presented by the instructors and students of the Masters Water Ski School. This is a show similar to the ones put on in the Florida Cypress Gardens. It will include the Butterflies, "Masters Moon Maids," an aqua ballet, water ballet, barefoot skiing, kite flying and clowns on skis.

Mrs. Bee Wineman, 1963 United States National Senior Women's Slalom Champion, 1964 National Senior Women's Jumping Champion and 1965 Western Regional Senior Women's Over-all Champion, will take part in the show. She is the director of the Masters Water Ski School.

Today is Friday, June 10, the 161st day of 1966 with 204 to follow.

The moon is in the last quarter; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; there are no evening stars.

English journalist and African explorer Sir Henry M. Stanley was born on this day in 1841.

On this day in history:

In 1898, American Marines began the invasion of Cuba in the Spanish-American war.

In 1940, Italian dictator Benito Mussolini declared war on France and Britain.

In 1942, the German gestapo burned the tiny village of Lidice in Czechoslovakia after shooting 173 male inhabitants of the town and deporting the women and children to concentration camps.

A Thought for the Day — American writer Henry Thoreau said: "It takes two to speak the truth . . . one to speak and the other to hear."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Knowing Foreign Laws May Help Prevent This Misplay

"Please tell me something about the law," asks a reader.

"I am told that in a certain country of Africa a bridge player can be sent to jail if he signals a doubleton when he cannot trump the third round.

Do you think they'd have room for my partner in that country?"

The sad story is told in a few words.

My correspondent led the king of hearts, and his partner signalled with the ten.

West continued with the ace of hearts and a third heart.

Unfortunately, East could not ruff higher than the dummy.

South promptly drew trumps and made his contract.

"It made South vulnerable," West reports, "but that's nothing to what it made East.

"Is murder really a crime in the United States?"

DOUBLE ANSWER

Yes, murder is a crime and double murder is a double crime.

This hand was murdered by both defenders.

West could surely defeat the contact when he found out that East had started with only two hearts.

West need not rely on his partner to over-ruff dummy on the third round of hearts. West has three natural heart tricks if he can get the trumps out of dummy.

At the second trick West should switch to a low trump. If declarer returns a heart, West takes the ace of hearts and cashes the ace of spades to take the second trump out of dummy.

Then West defeats the contract with the jack of hearts.

Maybe that African country has room for two bridge players.

♠ A 4 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

Avoid jumping to two hearts with such a hand.

You have neither a solid suit of your own, support for partner's suit, nor overwhelming strength in high cards.

Save the jump for later.

Market Has Vigorous Gain; Trading Heavy

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a big gain today. Trading was vigorous.

The glamor stocks in electronics, color TV, airlines aerospace, airlines and photography started it off early in the day, moving ahead on big blocks.

Buying gradually spread to the neglected blue-chip section of the market.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.4 million shares compared with 5.83 million yesterday.

Glamor stocks in the high-flying groups which paced the early 1966 advance were the leaders in early trading while blue chips moved up conservatively. As the session wore on many of the market wheelhorses also took fire, giving the Dow Jones industrial average a jump of better than eight points.

This brought it to the 890 level, approaching the vaunted resistance line of 900.

Aside from the volatile airlines, color television, electronics, aerospace issues, office equipments and other widemovers, the laggard steels, motors, utilities, rubbers and rails also advanced, giving substantial backing to the rally.

Up about 7 points were Motorola and Fairchild Camera. Northwest Airlines (new) rose 5, Xerox 9, IBM 5, Polaroid 4, Honeywell 4 and SCM 3.

Gains of 2 or better were made by Boeing, Raytheon, Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer, Control Data, U.S. Smelting, Pan American and American Airlines, TWA, Teledyne, Magnavox, Burroughs, Ara Inc., Cessna, Collins Radio, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Ling-Temco-Vought, KLM and a wide range of other issues.

Gains of a point or so were scattered throughout the list as gainers outnumbered losers by a wide margin.

New York Central leaped almost 3 points. Top steelmakers gained solidly. U.S. Steel was up almost 2 as was Jones & Laughlin.

Du Pont showed a 1-point loss. Kennecott rose nearly 2, Anaconda, International Telephone, General Electric and Radio Corp, more than a point.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange advanced sharply in heavy trading.

COMBINES ECONOMY AND PERFORMANCE—The new Datsun sedan boasts a spirited engine and synchromesh four-speed floor shift and has room for five adults. Most fittings are standard SAE—no special tools are needed. Parts and services are available through a network of Datsun dealers from coast to coast—in Marin at Annex Motors, San Rafael. Nissan Motor Co., maker of Datsun, is now Japan's largest automobile manufacturer.

Navy Lists Contracts With Bay Area Firms

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bay Area shipyards, contractors and suppliers received nearly $7 million from the Navy during May, the 12th Naval District reported today.

Ship repair contracts totaled $3.5 million and materials and supplies cost $3.3 million contracts worth $117,600 also were awarded.

Standard Ready To Deepen Dry Oil Test Well

LOS ANGELES — Pike Corp. of America has reported that Standard Oil Co. of California will resume drilling operations about Tuesday on a 320-acre federal oil and gas lease in Kern County.

Pike Corp. has a 7½ per cent base royalty interest and a 48½ per cent net carried interest in the lease.

The drilling will deepen a suspended well to a total of approximately 9,500 feet.

Standard Oil selected the location because it was on a trend line and is located about one-half mile from a discovery well announced by Standard in Section 15, to the immediate south of the lease in which Pike has an interest.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

Merger Creates Top Auto Maker In Japan

NISSAN MOTOR CO., LTD. has bought Prince Motors, Ltd., Japan's third ranking auto maker, making Nissan the largest auto manufacturer in the country. This is the first major merger of two automotive companies in Japan, but company spokesmen foresee it as the beginning of a series of acquisitions such as General Motors made in its formative years.

FIBERBOARD PAPER PRODUCTS CORP. has organized a new company to develop its extensive land holdings, which include 100,000 acres of timber lands in the Sierra. A substantial part offers views of Lake Tahoe and the newly formed Trimont Land Co. will study its potential for year-round recreational use.

MONTGOMERY WARD AND CO. has signed for a 183,000-square foot store at the 20-million dollar regional Serramonte Shopping Center soon to start construction in the triangle formed by Junipero Serra Freeway, Cabrillo Freeway and Serramonte Boulevard in Daly City. It will be seventh of the company's full line department stores in the Bay Area and will have an auto service center. Montgomery Ward and Macy's will be anchor tenants in the 60-store shopping area.
